City Spurs Action for Park, Library Bond Election

Move Too Expensive:

Despite Reports of Reprieve, Lindenwood Gatehouse Doomed

By MAGGIE MOORE

Reports that the 78-year-old gatehouse to the former Flood estate, Linden Towers, now the residential district of Lindenwood, had been given a new lease on life, were false.

Rumor rampant last week—and still today—claimed that the historic landmark in this Menlo-Atherton area was to be preserved as one of the remaining examples of the Old West. Mrs. Henry Cartan, active member of the California Historical association, was credited with stepping in to save the period-piece when all efforts to persuade the city officials of Atherton to allow it to remain standing failed.

Eager supporters of the move to save the gatehouse from demolition crews flooded Mrs. Cartan with calls and notes of appreciation and commendation even while a rueful and reluctant owner, Robert Proctor, 2 Linden avenue, was tearing it down. At this time the gatehouse is beyond saving at all.

Despite the interest and approval given to saving the landmark, Atherton planning officials apparently refused to consider petitions and requests of the Lindenwood area residents as well as other citizens in the town and surrounding area.

As late as Tuesday reports were being circulated that the gatehouse was being taken apart for reassembling on the Cartan estate at 5 Isabella avenue.

Mrs. Cartan, however, while expressing concern and disappointment over the action of the city officials, declared that her own efforts had to be abandoned because of the exorbitant costs of such a move.

"EXCELLENT"

"The men who went over the little house told me that it was in excellent condition—no dry rot, well-built as can be," she said, but adding that difficulties in moving the gatehouse made it impossible.

"The railroad tracks were my stumbling block," she maintained, saying that signal lights would have to be moved aside temporarily, for instance.

Proctor himself, tearing the gatehouse down while groups of people stopped by to express concern and beg him to try again to save it, had given up several weeks ago. He had offered to maintain the gatehouse on his property if the city would grant him a variance so that he could keep two residences on his acre lot.

Among the organizations which tried without success to save the gatehouse were the Woodside-Atherton Garden club, and the San Mateo county Historical association, both of which Mrs. Cartan is a member. Neither of these organizations had the funds available to guarantee care of the gatehouse even with Proctor's cooperation, however.

Woodside Move To Incorporate Faces Opposition

A move to incorporate 12 square miles of Woodside, initiated last week by a group of the area's women, will probably have to overcome protests of Redwood City and some residents' groups within the area itself, it was learned yesterday.

A map of the area proposed to be incorporated has already been submitted to the county board of supervisors; hearings are expected to be held within the next few weeks. Next legal step to be undertaken by the proponents of the incorporation will be the circulation of petitions which must be signed by owners representing at least 25 percent of the assessed valuation of the area.

Redwood City city council has indicated that it will appoint a committee from its membership to protest against the incorporation when the matter appears on the supervisors' agenda.

They contend that the proposal to extend the Woodside boundary east of Woodside heights violates a "gentleman's agreement" which would keep the proposed town's boundaries further west.

Some area improvement groups also oppose the move.

Mrs. Edward Russell, Mrs. King Harris and Mrs. Ralph King have been named as proponents of the incorporation. They said they were undertaking the task to preserve the individuality of their community, and because they have more time to devote to the organization job.

Water Company Rate Hike Hearing April 5

The California State Public Utilities Commission has set April 5, in San Francisco, as time and place for the start of hearings on an application of the California Water Service company for permission to increase its rates in the Peninsula area.

The CWS is asking for permission to increase rates by 15 per cent in Atherton, portions of Menlo Park served by the company, and Woodside. It is asking for higher percentile increases in other parts of its service area.

The hearings before the PUC will be held April 5 and 6.

Cities Agree on Drainage

Newshound Reports:

It's Been A Little Damp Lately!

Newton, the Recorder's News hound with the nose for news, this week raised said olfactory organ out of the dripping weather reports for the last couple of months and summarized:

Since the first REAL rain of the current damp season on Nov. 13 through and including Jan. 30, Menlo Park in the area of Hillview school Weathermouse station has experienced 52 days of rain out of the 79 days total. Total inches have added up to 21.64 for the period, which exceeds the 15.85-inch Chamber-of-Commerce-adopted "norm" for the average complete year by almost six inches.

Out at the sewage treatment plant of the Menlo Park Sanitary District, lying close to the bay in a different and drier wind channel the statistics are:

Forty-two days of rain out of the 79, with a total of 14.14 inches for the period.

Atherton Okays High School Shop Building

The proposed $60,000 industrial arts building for Menlo-Atherton high school's campus came a step closer to reality Monday night when the Atherton town council voted to grant the Sequoia High School district a use permit for the purpose.

One of the final buildings on the school's master plan, it will provide students with shop facilities heretofore available only at Sequoia high school in Redwood City.

Meanwhile, Sequoia High School District trustees were to decide last night whether to accept a bid for the project, lowest of which, opened two weeks ago, was 20 per cent above estimated cost for the unit, or $72,000.

The architects were to present a report on whether or not the increase in cost was due to "loose bidding," or to higher prices of materials.

Mitchell Quits as Atherton Mayor; Tyler Resigns Planning Board Post

Harry A. Mitchell, mayor of Atherton since 1952, and William B. Tyler, member of Atherton's planning commission since 1942, each submitted formal letters of resignation Monday night to the town council. Both resignations were accepted by the councilmen with expressions of great regret.

Mitchell, who first joined the Atherton council in 1950, succeeded James B. Howell as mayor in 1952. He gave as reasons for his leaving office the press of business activities, including his chairmanship of the Bay Area Transit commission and his position as trustee for the Sacramento-Northern railroad.

Acting mayor, George H. Linsley Jr., expressed the opinion of the council Monday night. "We regret the loss of a very able man," he said. "It is doubtful that people realize just how much of his time he has devoted to the town of Atherton during his mayorship."

Councilman Henry N. Kuechler Jr. introduced a resolution "to express our gratitude for his many years of capable service."

Mitchell retired as president of the Western Pacific Railroad company in 1949 and has resided with his wife, Myrtle, at 180 Stockbridge avenue since June of 1945. Whether or not Mitchell has plans to move from the area was not determined, but it has been learned that his home has been for sale during the past several months.

APPOINTMENT SOON

Appointment of a new mayor is expected to follow soon, according to Town Clerk W. Howard Boren. Mitchell's term on the council would have expired in April, 1957.

Tyler's resignation left vacant the chairmanship of the planning commission. A Peninsula resident for the past 30 years, Tyler served on the planning board since 1942. Until five years ago, he was vice president and general counsel of the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining corporation, by whom he had been employed for some 40 years.

A native of California, he and his wife, Harriet Pearson, have resided at 164 Isabella avenue since 1936.

Tyler said his reason for leaving the commission at this time is "the hope that I may effect a more complete retirement."

"I have remained on the commission for some years beyond my originally intended retirement," he said, "mainly because of my great respect and admiration of Mayor Mitchell."

"I have a great faith in and a love for Atherton," he said, "and I should like to say thanks to both the council and the commission for their confidence and their cooperation during the years of my office."

Trustees Weigh Contract on Oak Knoll Unit

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees were to meet yesterday evening to consider awarding a contract for construction of a six-classroom addition at Oak Knoll school, after receiving five "encouragingly low" bids for the job at a special meeting Tuesday night.

Lowest of the bids submitted was a $103,000 one submitted by E. J. Leep of Sunnyvale; his was only $699 less than the second lowest bid, submitted by Don Gordon.

Indicating that they intended that the building project should start as soon as possible, the school district's trustees set last night's meeting as a possible time for signing a contract for the job and also authorized the district administration to hire an inspector.

The one-day delay, they said, was to allow the district attorney's office to go over bid forms and other legal data.

Architect Kingsford Jones had originally estimated cost of the addition at $107,000. Highest bid submitted was for $109,445, indicated a "spread" of less than 6½ per cent in prices.

The new rooms will be in the form of two "finger" wings of classrooms. Net gain to the school will be six classrooms rather than seven, since one space currently used for classes will be converted into its intended use as a library.

Police 'Douse' False 'Fires'

Atherton police Saturday cut short a spree of false fire alarms apparently gotten under way by two eight-year-olds, and the boys have six months in which to consider the advisability of engaging in such shenanigans.

The boys reported fires in the Lloyden drive area, and after the first report, by a juvenile voice, was found to be imaginary, police and firemen started to check.

Two calls later, the Atherton police located the boys.

Officers of the fire department delivered their usual firm lecture, and turned the boys over to the Atherton police.

Chief Leroy Hubbard consulted with the parents and came up with the following informal agreement:

The boys are to be on "strict probation" with both police and parents participating; they will have to write reports of their activities, for the police, every week. In addition, they've been assigned a series of minor tasks to perform at the police station.

Atherton, Menlo To Set Up Joint Project

Meeting informally Tuesday night, Atherton and Menlo Park city councilmen found themselves in agreement on joint action to solve some of the two communities' mutual storm drainage problems.

Evidently to be pushed through to completion, this summer if possible, is a storm sewer line proposed in 1952 but blocked at that time by protest from Atherton property owners.

Estimated to cost about $60,000 by Edwin H. Smith, city engineer for both communities, the system would extend a large pipe up Middlefield road from its present terminus in front of the American Insurance company offices to Oak Grove ave., thence up Oak Grove to Laurel street, along Laurel and into Noel drive, where it would pick up water which is now syphoned under the railroad all the way from the area of the Menlo Park Southern Pacific depot.

STUDY FINANCING

Still to be determined by the two cities is the method to be used in financing the project.

In 1952, Menlo Park proposed that the work be paid for by an assessment district against property owners in the area served, similar to the way other storm drain units in Menlo Park have been financed. Proposed Tuesday night by Menlo Park Councilman Charles P. Burgess was ad valorem taxation of properties in the district instead of firm assessments.

This, he pointed out, would mean that annual cost of the bonds would be spread pro rata according to the assessed valuation of the properties involved.

When and if the 10-plus acres along the Middlefield road edge of Stanford Village, title to which is now being disputed by the federal government and Sequoia High School district, comes under private ownership, that valuable land and the presumably costly buildings that might be erected on it would share the district's financial burden. This would lower the cost to other owners.

Whether it would be possible, under state law, to form such a district across city lines and still maintain local control was a question raised by Burgess and Atherton Councilman Richard C. Van Houten. The district would include some 15 properties in Atherton.

Such legal obstacles to the ad valorem financing are to be studied before the two communities take definite steps to launch the project.

CANAL STUDY

On the problem of flooding along the Atherton drainage canal, the two communities also agreed informally on joint action.

Smith pointed out that the major part of the water that flows into the canal originates in unincorporaed area west of the two towns. Menlo Park, he said, is involved only to the extent of about five per cent in flow from the Sherman avenue triangle at the city's extreme western limits.

The county board of supervisors, he said, is to consider authorizing a study of this drainage basin, estimated to cost "two or three thousand dollars," and looking toward possible clearing and lining of the canal.

Council men for both towns indicated they would be willing to join in such a study to the extent of their involvement.

Smith also received endorsement of a joint letter to be signed by Menlo Park and Palo Alto, as well as San Mateo and Santa Clara counties to the state board of water resources urging that body to press for federal appropriation of funds to complete study of the Guadalupe drainage basin, which includes San Francisquito creek.

Realtors to Vote On 'Multiple' Plan

Directors of the Menlo-Atherton Board of Realtors Monday will meet to vote on whether or not the local agency shall go to a "multplie listing" system; the matter is to be voted on by the association membership the same day.

Meeting at which the directors will consider multiple listing will convene at 10:45 a.m. at Ramor Oaks. The membership meeting will convene at 12 noon at the same locale.

Special Session Called to Place Measure on Ballot for April 10

Menlo Park voters definitely will be given a chance on April 10 to approve a municipal bond issue of between $150,00 and $200,000 to finance a city library building and purchase two park sites, one in the Willows area and one in Belle Haven east of Bayshore highway.

City councilmen, meeting informally Tuesday night, so decided when they called a special meeting for next Tuesday to launch proceedings putting the measure on the ballot along with the regular city election on that date.

Exact amounts involved in the project are to be determined later, but preliminary estimates this week indicated that acquisition of the two park sites might involve some $50,000 to $60,000, while the library, to be erected in the city-owned civic center area along Ravenswood avenue, probably will cost in the neighborhood of $90,000 to $100,000.

HOLD TO MINIMUM

Councilmen Tuesday considered whether the proposed bond issue should be enlarged to include funds for development of recreation facilities at the park site and at elementary school playgrounds in other sections of the city.

A majority, however, indicated they believed it wiser at this time to ask voters only for the minimum required to secure the properties and erect the library building.

Councilman Charles P. Burgess pointed out that, once the property is acquired, the city will be able gradually to develop facilities by using city crews and current tax funds. He declared that the council has not felt it proper up to now to expend city funds for development of facilities at school playgrounds in the western part of the city because sites were not available east of Middlefield road for similar work. It is unfair, he explained, to expend general tax money in one portion of the community without providing similar benefits in other areas.

Underscoring the need for speedy acquisition of the park lands now, councilmen pointed out that part of a Gilbert street park proposed in a bond issue defeated two years ago has since been developed residentially.

LIBRARY LOSING LEASE

Need for immediate action on the library building has been stressed in that the city's lease on present library facilities will expire next autumn and is not expected to be renewed.

Architect Kingsford Jones, recently hired by the city to design overall development of a civic center, is rushing preliminary plans and estimates on the library building as first unit in the long-range plan.

As one small immediate step in providing the city with better recreational park facilities, the council this week indicated that city crews would assist the Menlo Park Elementary School district in filling and grading at the Hillview school playground necessary before the school district can turf the area.

Extent of the project was indicated by school district Business Manager John Richert when he said it would run to "about $500 or $600." The dirt for fill is now available at the Oak Knoll school, and City Administrative Assistant John R. Johnson reported that city trucks and loaders can accomplish the job without disrupting other work schedules.

Councilmen, however, told school district trustees that the city could not go beyond this contribution to park development until park sites are available in the easterly portion of the city to allow equitable use of city funds.

School trustees declared they hope to have the turfed area available for recreational programs by autumn.

To Help Budget:

Sustaining Membership Drive Set to Finance Boy Scouts

Annual sustaining membership drive for the San Mateo county Boy Scout council got under way this week, and in the Menlo Park area drive workers were named as the youth organization started its annual fundraising.

Wallace Ott was named chairman of the drive for the Live Oak District, which includes East Palo Alto, Woodside, Atherton and Menlo Park. John C. McCracken, Roland Midgely and Fielding McDearmon were named area chairmen to assist him.

Plans for the drive itself were announced by Graeme K. MacDonald, newly-elected president of the county area council. A goal of $50,000 has been set for the drive, he said, to meet growing program needs and to supplement funds allocated from the recent United Crusade drive.

"The supplementary effort is made necessary by the unprecedented growth of Scouting in this area and the resulting inability of the Crusade to match total budgetary needs," MacDonald pointed out. "In 1955 more than 14,905 different boys were served by Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and exploring, meaning an increase of 20 per cent in one year alone, on the countywide basis."

He also noted that the United Crusade, while raising $9,415,595 in its fall campaign, only made $25,576 more available to the 23 agencies of San Mateo county participating. Had the crusade gone beyond the 90 per cent of the goal it attained, more funds would have been available for agencies in this area.

BUDGET PROBLEM

"The Boy Scout council had previously approved a minimum budget of $131,631 for 1956 operations," MacDonald continued, "which is far lower by any standards than it should be for a council the size of the one serving this county.

"It is up to those of us who participate in the Scout movement, parents of boys who are served, former Scouts and Scouters and friends of Scouting to make up this difference needed.

"We intend to do it through the sustaining membership drive which we have initiated for the current month."

For west Menlo Park, the drive will commence with a meeting set for 8 p.m. Feb. 7; the drive has already started in eastern portions of the Live Oak district, with a meeting held last night at Willow school.

Those joining the Scout movement as sustaining members are invited to participate in such events as the annual Scout-O-Rama, are kept informed of Scouting's progress, and are in other ways considered as participants in the county organization.

HONORED FOR WORK—William Cutter of 224 Arden road, Menlo Park, was last week presented with the San Mateo county Boy Scout council's special award, for long-time service and support, at the county council's annual dinner held in San Mateo. Shown making the presentation is Burress Karmel of San Mateo, who presented the award. William Regan of Menlo Park was program chairman for the gathering.

On All Levels:

Many Elections To Face Voters From April to November Here

A wide and varied assortment of elections—local, state and national—is set to be presented to the voters during 1956, commencing with local elections in April and being climaxed with national general elections Nov. 6.

South San Mateo county voters are to be confronted with ballot-casting decisions as candidates for school boards, municipal and district offices line up for election.

In order to be eligible to cast ballots, reminds county Supervisor of Elections R. J. Patterson, a person must be registered with any one of the several official deputy registrars of voters in the area.

Registration must take place at least 54 days prior to the election at which one intends to vote; therefore, to vote April 10, one must register prior to Feb. 7. A voter has an "active registration" if he has voted in either a primary or general election during the past year.

First possible election for Menlo Park area residents will fall on April 1, date for the regular Menlo Park Fire Protection District balloting. Term of office of Commissioner Malcolm Paterson expires this year. The voting will take place if their is a contest. Dates for filing candidacy petitions are Feb. 2 to 21.

CITY ELECTIONS

Menlo Park municipal elections are next in line April 10 with four city officials ending their terms of office. At least three plan now to run for re-election. City Councilman Vaile Andrus and William Lawson have each indicated their names will be on the ballot this year. City Clerk Mrs. Margaret Becker has also announced her intentions to be a candidate again. One other office due to expire is that of City Treasurer, currently held by Mrs. Francis Maloney, who has not announced intentions.

The municipal elections may also offer the public a choice of several propositions.

Atherton residents will have a chance to express themselves April 10 at the town's municipal election. Two town councilmen, Henry N. Kuechler Jr. and Edward L. Turkington, reach the end of their four-year terms this year and may appear on the ballot.

Filing for petitions for nomination must be submitted to the office of the city clerk no later than 12 noon Feb. 16.

Nomination papers for those seeking municipal office must be filed with the city clerk no later than noon on Feb. 16. Opening date for the "circulation" of nomination papers was Jan. 26.

On May 18 voters will go to the polls to determine who shall serve on the various school boards throughout the area. One Sequoia high school board of trustees member, Robert J. Dell'Ergo of Menlo Park, whose term expires June 30, has announced he will not be a candidate for re-election this year. Deadline for filing a declaration of candidacy petition with the county superintendent of schools is April 18.

Menlo Park Elementary school district trustees John C. Davenport and Mrs. Mary Klein each have expiring terms this year and have not yet announced whether or not they will run again.

Las Lomitas Elementary school district trustees Jack Robertson and Mrs. Ruth Duniway each have terms due to expire June 30.

Ravenswood Elementary school district trustees Fielding McDearmon and Joseph Violette are incumbents whose terms are due to expire this year.

The Consolidated Presidential and Direct Primary election June 5 will offer a wide slate of offices, both partisan and non-partisan. Incumbents whose names will appear on the ballot include U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel, U. S. Congressman J. Arthur Younger and California State Senator Harry L. Parkman. There will also be a vacancy in the 25th State Assembly district.

Superior Court Judge Murray Draper's term of office expires this year, as do those of San Mateo county board of supervisors Thomas J. Callan, William Werder and Alvin S. Hatch. The supervisors serve four year terms.

Also to be decided at the June 5 primaries will be the county central committees of each political party in each of the supervisory districts.

Menlo Park's Sanitary district will hold an election Sept. 17 should the three incumbents whose four-year terms expire this year be met with opposition candidates.

Incumbents on the board whose terms are to expire include Uno Ahlenius, William T. Casey and William B. Tyler. Filing dates for candidates will be between Aug. 18 and 27. The board now has three members from Menlo Park and two from Atherton.

Pigeon, Dog Form Friendly Pair At Home in MP

A strange performance is being observed these days by residents of the Whitcomb rest home at 800 Roble avenue.

Residents have taken special notice of the 15-year old Springer Spaniel dog "Betty," belonging to Mrs. Clarence Whitcomb, owner of the home. The dog has taken up a "friendship" with a carrier pigeon of unknown origin, observers report.

Residents of the home and nearby neighbors have watched with interest the developing association of the bird-dog and the bird. They say they began to notice the blue-grey pigeon walking near and around the canine without the dog's objections about five months ago. "Betty doesn't allow any other bird to share the premises," Mrs. Whitcomb declares.

The peculiar pair are seen almost anytime during the daylight hours, the pigeon walking placidly about the yard within a five-foot radius of Betty, or perched on a nearby hand rail contentedly cooing.

The bird is apparently a carrier pigeon, Mrs. Whitcomb said.

Inventor's Co-Worker:

Edison's Inventions Reviewed By Speaker at Hillview School

Last week, in Menlo Park's Hillview school, second graders of Mrs. Diane Murray were surprised in the middle of their study of electricity by the visit of an old friend and co-worker of Thomas A. Edison.

The children's guest was Ward Harris, grandfather of second grader Terry Harris, who came at the request of young Terry to "fill in" for the class some background in the development of electric lighting.

A "man with experience" in his field, Harris began working for Edison when he was 14, and is still associated with the Edison company.

Displaying a host of fascinating objects from his personal museum on "Edisonia" and the beginnings of electrical invention in this century, Harris held the children spellbound as he traced the history of light, and enumerated Edison's contributions to the world.

He told how the first campfire must have lighted a cave, of the development of candles, the oil lamp—ancient ones of stone with a wick dipped in olive oil; the modern coal-oil lamp—the gas light, and finally the discovery of the incandescent bulb by Edison.

"Oooh's and Aaah's" came from the second graders as Harris showed them the old flaming "wand" carried by the lamplighter of the gaslight era. He also displayed one of Edison's incandescent bulbs.

A souvenir of the days of discovery with Edison was a pair of tiny earrings made of miniature light bulbs. Just 10 pairs of these were made, ordered by Edison as gifts for the wives of his 10 most trusted co-workers at a dinner in celebration of the success of their work. As far as he knows, Harris told the children, they are the only earrings left of the original 10 pairs.

EARLY RECORDING

Harris also brought an early "Gem" phonograph and played a record on it for the children. Unlike most inventions which are frequently successful innovations on ideas previously advanced by earlier scientists, the phonograph was entirely original with Edison. He developed a type of hand-powered tinfoil recorder in connection with another invention he was working on at the time.

Edison was also the inventor of the carbon transmitter for the ordinary telephone, which made the manufacture of a telephone inexpensive enough to be commercially practical.

An interesting side-note on the Edison phonograph came when Harris told the story of "Mary," the first word recorded on the new machine. With his new phonograph ready to test, Edison seemed speechless, then began to recite the nursery rhyme. "Mary had a little lamb . . ." When the rhyme was played back, the first recorded word he heard was his own "Mary . . ."

After telling this anecdote on Edison's invention, Harris took from an envelope a sheet of paper with a medallion sealed to it, and these words printed: "This medal struck to commemorate the centennial of the birth of Thomas A. Edison." The medals were made at the order of Edison's wife, Harris related, and on the 100th anniversary of his birth, she gave a dinner party at which each guest received one of the small souvenirs. Those that were left she gave to Harris.

Asking which of the second graders were named Mary, he gave a medallion to pupil Mary Mears and second grade teacher Miss Mary Sutow. Second grader Charles Frank received one because his birthday fell closest to Edison's. Mrs. Murray, whose class was host to Harris, also received one of the medallions.

Confused about stocks?

Many people who come to our office don't buy stocks—not on their first visit, anyway. They come because they want to ask questions about stocks, or dividends, or capital growth, or some other aspect of investment that has caught their interest.

We answer all their questions as fully—and as courteously—as we can. Some of the answers set our visitors thinking. Often it turns out that someone who came just for information will invest in stocks later, because he liked what he learned.

If ever you have any questions about stocks, come in and put them to us. We make no charge for answering questions. Our job is to help you—not to high-pressure you—and that goes even if you just want to talk things over.

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AWARD is presented to Wallace E. Ott (left), of Menlo Park, a representative of the Aetna Life Insurance company, by Robert B. Coolidge, company vice-president, during three-day meeting of Aetna Life Leaders club, national honorary organization of the company's top producers, at the Hotel Statler in Hartford, Conn. Ott is associated with the Aetna Life's San Francisco General Agency and is a past president of the Menlo Park Life Underwriter's association.

PTA Parent Study Group Meets Here Tonight

Interested parents and citizens of Menlo Park are invited to attend the third meeting of the combined PTA Parents Education groups, Thursday, Feb. 2 at 8 p.m. in the board room at Central school.

The groups will continue the series of discussion on "the more able" child in the Menlo Park schools. The problems of acceleration and segregation of these children will be discussed as well as the topic of enrichment activities at home. There will be a display of work accomplished by some of the children in the middle and upper grade levels.

Mr. Paul Berry(teacher at Encinal school, will report on achievement tests given children last spring. Miss Eileen Doyle, Mr. Richard Key and Mr. Frank Cantu will be among the teachers present to participate in the discussions.

Mrs. John Chadwick, parent education chairman at Oak Knoll, has been in charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

Staffers at Bank Win Cash Awards

Two Menlo Park branch staffers were among those awarded first prize recently by the Wells Fargo bank, for their work in bringing in new Christmas club accounts, it was announced this week.

The two are Roger Casey and Lois Wright. Dennis Main, on the staff of the bank's Woodside road branch, also received a first prize.

Second prizes were awarded to Ruth Egbert of the Woodside road branch; Mary Clarke of the Menlo Park branch and Francis C. Miller of the bank's East Palo Alto branch won third prizes.

School District To Institute Own Library

Menlo Park School District trustees Tuesday night authorized the start of a library of supplementary teaching materials for the district itself, after agreeing to withdraw from a county library program under which these were formerly supplied.

The county itself will help ease strain of forming a library here, by leaving some materials—mostly books—in the hands of the local agency. Some other volumes for which the district has already paid will also be made available.

But, the trustees agreed Tuesday, a "capital outlay" item of some $8000 will have to be included in next year's budget, to finance the purchase of more books, and the district will have to hire a librarian.

Decision to leave the county program came after studies started early this month, after the county board of supervisors called for a hike in price of the service from $75 to $100 per "teaching unit." Such a unit is considered to include one teacher and 35 pupils.

GAS TAX ALLOCATION

Robert C. Kirkwood, state controller, last week advised the county board of supervisors that San Mateo county will receive $113,265.24 as its share of the $5,662,759 in highway users taxes apportioned to the counties in January.

No mining, hunting or grazing of livestock is permitted in national parks.

The important point is not so much the amount of estate taxes but whether there is an estate to tax.

Democrats Greet Adlai Tonight

Tonight more than 2000 Democrats from San Mateo, Santa Clara and San Francisco counties including a large contingent from Menlo Park will attend the box supper at Bay Meadows clubhouse in San Mateo, where Adlai Stevenson will personally greet as many persons as he can, supper Chairman Roy W. Seagraves of Menlo Park announced today.

Those who have failed to purchase their tickets to the $1.50 box supper in advance should come early if they hope to get in Seagraves said. The supper is from 7 to 9 p.m.

Stevenson will hold a brief press conference for Peninsula newspapermen at 7 p.m. at the clubhouse and then will make a 10-minute speech at the supper. During the rest of the evening, he will depart from his previous campaign tactics and attempt to shake hands with as many voters as he can, Seagraves said.

His supper partner will be 99-year-old William Houston of Palo Alto, an ardent Stevenson supporter and fourth cousin of the presidential aspirant.

Lei Aloha of Palo Alto, owner of the Town and Country Hawaiian shop of that name, will do native dances and present Stevenson with leis flown in from the Hawaiian Democratic clubs. Wally Rose and his Dixieland jazz band will also play during the evening.

Mrs. Roy Seagraves has been named by Mrs. M. M. Hardin of San Mateo to assist with the supper committee. More than 200 persons from the Menlo-Atherton area are expected to attend. Tickets in this area can be obtained from Stanley M. Felix, DA 5-5763.

Younger Names Two for Exams

A Menlo Park man was named as a candidate for the final examination for the U.S. air force academy and an Atherton man was named a finalist of the U.S. naval academy examination, this week by Congressman J. Arthur Younger, of the San Mateo county Congressional district.

Richard A. Garrity, Menlo Park, is one of 10 from the county to take the examination for the air force academy; John S. Crittenden of Atherton is the naval academy examination candidate.

The nominees scoring the highest in a forthcoming physical examination will be appointed by Congressman Younger.

Emotional Disturbances May Cause Cancer, Menlo Researcher Says

A book entitled "The Psychosomatic Aspects of Cancer," published this month by Peabody Press and written by Harold E. Simmons, superintendent of social services, San Mateo county division of Public Health, attempts to establish the hypothesis that cancer is caused by emotions and their effect on the glandular system.

The author, whose home is at 925 Arbor road, Menlo Park, said that the book does not claim to be conclusive proof, but only a development of a hypothesis that cancer results directly from emotional disturbances.

To substantiate the theory, Simmons has examined the lives of eight famous persons who have died from cancer, he said.

Napoleon, Eva Peron, Babe Ruth, Daymon Runyon, Robert Taft, Gertrude Stein, and Ulysses S. Grant, each had "distressing occurrences" in their lives which seemed to set off "psychic traumas," which in turn affected the glandular system of the individual.

"Certain kinds of diseases are known to result, almost overnight, from such traumas," Simmons said, "especially thyroid diseases."

Simmons, who is not a doctor of medicine, but has a masters degree in social work from the University of Washington and who has completed two years toward a doctorate degree in behaviorial science, contends that too much stress has been placed on biochemistry and not enough on emotional disturbances in cancer research. Both elements ought to be considered, he said.

The book is available as a paper-bound monograph.

Kiwanis Clubbers At Convention

President Elton Martin and Secretary Dr. Calvert J. Rothenberg of Menlo Park Kiwanis club, along with delegates Addison Janes, Dick Schlegel and Kit Carleton last week attended the Kiwanis midwinter convention in Fresno.

Besides regular business items, the local delegates participated in discussion of plans for the forthcoming international convention in San Francisco.

'Enrichment' of Upper Grade Program Eyed by School District

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees were to consider in the near future the possibility of "enriching" the district's program for upper grade students, with emphasis on home crafts, science and fine arts, it was revealed this week.

During a recent "visitation day" tour of out-of-district facilities, the trustees concentrated on visits to Ray Lyman Wilbur Junior high school in Palo Alto, and the intermediate school in Burlingame, according to School District superintendent Dr. Mel Homfeld.

"The district has some 'special purpose' rooms which have been used as classrooms during the past several years," Dr. Homfeld explained, "and it's felt that with a levelling-off of enrollment, these may at some time in the relatively near future be put to the use for which they are intended."

He referred to special purpose rooms at Encinal and Hillview schools.

Such rooms are useful, he said, for the teaching of classes in which individual project materials must be stored between class periods, and where more space than that allowed by the normal school desk is desirable.

The program is not designed to "make specialists," according to Dr. Homfeld, but will concern itself with very basic skills and experiments.

OTHER PHASES

The district has already started work on enrichment of its science program on another front, with teachers participating in "workshops" designed to acquaint them with experiments and demonstrations which may be performed in the normal classroom, without special equipment.

The recent visits were part of a three-session tour undertaken by the school district's trustees. Besides visiting the out-of-district upper-grade schools, they have visited some classrooms in the Menlo Park district and, before the program is complete, will have visited all of them.

California-grown dates were exhibited at a fair in San Francisco in 1877.

'CITY COUNCIL' IN HILLVIEW CLASSROOM

Nativity Youth Group Is Reorganized Here

Pro Deo, the newly organized teen club of the Church of the Nativity, had a Sunday eveening skating date for members and guests as its first activity, it was announced by Sue White, spokesman for the group.

Pro Deo is the new name for the completely reorganized former Nativity Youth club and will be guidded by three sponsor couples in cooperation with the chaplain, Father Thomas Riley. Father Riley, assistant to the pastor, Father Thomas J. McKeon who appointed him to the chaplain's role.

Sponsor couples are Mr. and Mrs. Orville Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Castoro and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kearney.

Temporary officers are headed by Terry Munday, president; Ursula Cleary, vice president; Aileen Ryan, secretary; Jack Skrabo, treasurer; Bill Hanson, sergeant-at-arms; Sue White, publicity chairman; Jerry Berger, program chairman, and Mike Callahan, membership chairman.

Father James Clark, former assistant to Father McKeon, now at St. Leo's in San Jose, sent the new club a mimeograph machine for its use with his best wishes.

Members and guests will meet at the Nativity hall on Sunday evening at 7:30 before leaving for the skating rink in Redwood City where the party will begin at 8.

Bloodmobile Sets Call Next Week

Peninsula Memorial blood bank of San Mateo will send its "bloodmobile" to the Palo Alto Elks club in Barron park next Tuesday, for the convenience of area residents who wish to make "deposits" of blood without journeying to the mid-county headquarters.

The mobile unit will be at the BPOE hall from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Individuals or organizations may make reservations, to insure prompt attention when they call, by contacting DA 2-4624 in advance of the bloodmobile date.

HOUSEWIFE ARRESTED

Rose Marie Schwartz, 42-year-old housewife residing at 562 Gerona road on Stanford campus, was booked at the county jail on charges of drunken driving Tuesday night, after being observed travelling south on El Camino Real in what Atherton police described as an "erratic manner."

Mutual Savings Shifts Officers

Announcement has been made by Mr. H. P. Stevens, general manager of Palo Alto Mutual Savings and Loan association that Albert A. Vandervoort, formerly assistant secretary and manager of the Menlo Park office of Palo Alto Mutual has been appointed secretary of the financial institution and transferred to the Palo Alto main office. His position in Menlo Park has been assumed by Roger C. Morey.

Morey, who has been a resident of Palo Alto since 1922, joined Palo Alto Mutual in 1952 as assistant secretary in the loan department, following 15 years with the American Trust company.

A Marine Corps veteran of World War II and the Korean war, Morey resides in Palo Alto. He attended Oregon State university, is treasurer of the Palo Alto BPOE and a member of the Menlo-Atherton Board of Realtors.

Fords Offered in Contest

"Be the Winner of a New Ford" is the title of a contest announced today by H. C. Bettencourt, president of Bettencourt's Miracle Markets. 1956 Fords which will go on display in front of all six Bettencourt Markets in San Jose, Los Altos, Mountain View, Menlo Park and Redwood City will be awarded to patrons of the markets on a 15-day average, Bettencourt said.

Bettencourt emphasized that all entries in any of the six Bettencourt markets has an equal chance to win. Entry blanks are available at the markets. No purchase is necessary. The first Ford will be awarded Feb. 20, 1956.

PAYS $150 FINE IN P.A.

Cubs of Pack 66 Hear Talk On 'Bike Safety'

Cub Pack 66 held its regular monthly meeting recently in the all - purpose room at Encinal school.

Following the opening ceremonies, Cubmaster Bob Block introduced Officer Ron Files of the Atherton police department. Officer Files made a personal inspection of the Cubs in attendance and awarded the Blue Ribbon to Den 2.

Following this, Officer Files talked to the Cubs and their parents about bicycle safety.

One new initiate, Allan Karr, was welcomed as a Bobcat. Three transfers, James Ashton, Steven Hempel and Erick Beal, were accepted into the pack.

Norris Everett presented the following Cubs for awards: Wolf badge: Hazard Bancroft; Bear badge: Jack Frey, Lloyd Larson, Preston Fox, Richard Webster, Bill Sciaroni, Oliver Swenningson, Steveen Taft, Bruce Everett.

At the conclusion of the award ceremony, Den 10 and Den 9 entertained the assembly with two lively playlets on a pirate theme after which Den 9 served refreshments.

The next activity for Cub Pack 66 will be a field trip to Hunters Point naval shipyard on Saturday, Feb. 11.

Charters Reviewed For Scout Units

Several Boy Scout units participated in the Live Oak district Charter Reviews held on Monday at Central school.

Groups included were Pack 64, sponsored by the Calo Dog Food company; Pack 68, sponsored by the Friendly Acres Improvement club; Troop 151, sponsored by the East Palo Alto Lions club; Troop 163, sponsored by the Menlo Park Kiwanis club and Pack 235, sponsored by the King's Mountain PTA.

County Scouts Select Leaders For New Year

San Mateo county Boy Scout council's nominating committee Friday night submitted names of several Menlo Park area men who are expected to be elected to head various phases of the countywide Boy Scout program during the coming year.

Four men from the live Oak District—the Scout agency which covers Menlo Park, East Palo Alto, Atherton and Woodside—served on the 12-man panel which has submitted the names. The locals are Marron Kendrick, Robert McBride, Bennett J. Valdes and William V. Regan.

Five from this area were selected as prospective re-elected members of the county council's executive board, as members-at-large. They are George R. Angus, Glen O. Smallcomb, Valdes, Landis Weaver and John Wickett.

To be elected as new members of the executive board, according to the nominating group's recommendations, are Selah Chamberlain and Ross Anderson.

Hal Honore was named as a prospective member of the council.

National council representatives were also selected. These included MacBride, Smallcomb and Kendrick.

Several long-time supporters of the Boy Scout movement in this area were also nominated for election as "Honorary members of the council executive board and members-at-large of the council." These included:

The Rev. Thomas McKeon of Church of the Nativity in Menlo Park, and Bert L. Werder, third supervisorial district county supervisor.

Nominated as members-at-large of the council were 12 area men: William Shreve, Fred Walker, Richard F. Holt, Richard Pilliod, George Devine, Alfred Wheeler, William F. Cutter, William Rullhausen, Walter D. Riddle, Bruce Walcher, James Mullin and Robert DeGolia.

United Volunteers Need Help for Sick

Golfers willing to teach and play with sick military personnel and veterans as well as stamp collectors willing to share their hobby with these patients are in great demand in the Peninsula's United Voluntary Service organization.

In fact, anybody interested in sharing his enthusiasm with veterans and military patients would be useful in the UVS program, according to Mary K. Stern, president of the Menlo Park area UVS.

Mrs. Stern said both men and women are needed.

For details, call her at DA 5-0740. She lives at 221 Arlington way.

'SUNSET' HEADQUARTERS AWARDED NEW HONORS

Sunset magazine's home office at Willow and Middlefield roads in Menlo Park was recently named a winner on the annual "plant America" contest for industrial landscaping, a contest conducted by the American Association of Nurserymen. The local plant was the only western winner in the contest.

Special Training for Scout Leaders Gets Under Way With Class Tonight

A series of three courses sponsored by the Live Oak Boy Scout District is geared to train all Cub, Scout and Explorer leaders, parents, committeemen, den mothers and other interested persons.

Today is starting day for all three separate courses, which take place from 7:30 p.m. to 9:20 p.m. in Central school, according to Richard F. Holt, chairman, leadership training committee for the district.

Pete Karagas is in charge of the classes for Cub Scouters and pack leaders; meeting site is the Central school auditorium, with "Fundamentals Achievement Plan" chosen as the lead-off topic.

"Program Planning" is the second subject in this series, slated for Feb. 16; other focal points include "Den Meeting" on Mar. 1; "Pack Meeting" on Mar. 15 and a choice of "Pack Administration" (men); "Den Mother-Den Chief Relationship" (women) or "Webelos" (men), all to be given on Mar. 29.

For Boy Scouters-troop leaders a coincidental series of classes will be presented in Central school board room under the direction of Ed Willet. Instructors are, besides Willett, Joe Demeter, F. W. Bunker, Joe Spindler, Lee Engleman and William Farrar.

"Organization and Leadership" is the topic of tonight's conclave. During the ensuing weeks training comprises "Program Planning" Feb. 16; "Troop Meeting" Mar. 1; "Hiking" Mar. 15; "Camping, Part I" Mar. 29, and "Camping, Part II and Help Boy Grow" April 7 and 8.

WEEKEND STAY

The latter marks a weekend stay at Camp Pomponio.

Troop and Explorer unit leaders are invited to attend the course being instructed in Central school basement. Ernie Lindberg is in charge of this series which also opens tonight; other instructors will be Derrald Hawkes, Charles Owen and William P. Rullhausen.

Coverage takes "Explorer Fundamentals and Organization" tonight; "Explorer Leadership" Feb. 16 "Explorer Program" Mar. 1; "Explorer-Service" Mar. 15. A weekend at Camp Pomponio, concerned with expedition skills, will climax the course.

As We See It:

SALUTE TO SCOUTING

During the seven days which start Monday, some 2300 boys in the Menlo Park-Atherton-East Palo Alto-Woodside area will join in marking an anniversary.

The anniversary will be that of the Boy Scout movement in America. It's 46 years since that organization started, with the aim of opening a whole new vista of experience for boys and, at the same time, to provide them with opportunities to learn to work together, become good citizens, and to improve their own morale and outlook.

The movement, if progress made in Menlo Park in the past few years is any indication, is a success, not only on the basis that more than 75 per cent of the boys in this area who are eligible are members of Cub Scout units and Boy Scout troops, but also on the basis that some of "us oldsters" are being improved by it too.

Let's consider, first, how well the Boy Scouts are doing.

As of last December, when the Live Oak District annual dinner was held at Hillview school, reports indicated that some 56 Scout units were in operation in this south county area. A total of 2200 boys were registered members of the four explorer posts, 26 Cub Scout units and 22 Boy Scout troops enumerated. Even since then, more packs and troops have been activated; the speed with which they're being organized is pretty phenomenal.

This indicates, among other things, that the Scout movement has earned the respect of boys — even the little ones, too young for Cub Scouting — and of parents who are anxious to see their youngsters participate in the program.

Now for the second point: How does the Scout movement improve "us oldsters?"

Lots of ways.

For one thing, the parent who participates in Scouting — who serves on pack committees, as a troop adult leader or as an explorer advisor — gets some intangible but substantial rewards.

They're helping show the way. And this job, if done right in any human situation, it can be an intense satisfaction . . . and a liberal education.

Talking to Scouters, — some of them older men who've worked with the movement for many years, you learn that they feel they've got one of the best avocations and one of the most important in the community.

On the occasion of Boy Scout Week, 1956, we are proud to salute our own Explorers, Scouts and Cubs, as well as the adults who work with them and every active member of the Boy Scouts of America.

PROPER PROGRESS

With recent announcement of plans for Palo Alto's projected new hospital and the Stanford Medical School on land adjacent to Menlo Park, comes further realization of the ever-expanding progress of our Mid-Peninsula.

We of this area should be especially proud of these new medical facilities. They will include an experiment, the first "garden hospital" ever constructed, with natural plantings planned by landscape architect Thomas Church carrying out the mode of "country living."

Not only will the "outdoor-in-door" living feature be observed in the new facility, harmonizing with its natural surroundings, but some of the traditions of Stanford university will be utilized, too. All buildings will be pigmented to blend with existing campus structures.

In this instance, we have progress joined with tradition, and an harmonious wedding of modern technical advancement to the country setting we have come to treasure.

TELLS US:

This is Happy Groundhog Day for everybody—except groundhogs in Menlo Park.

Well, perhaps not groundhogs, but their first cousins, the gophers. The beasties are being ousted from their homes around St. Patrick's seminary this week, due to ploughing on that vast property adjacent to the new fire district headquarters.

And the occupants of the new firestation wish the soil had been tilled just a wee bit sooner. The liquid ambars which they so carefully planted a couple of weeks ago have lost their roots, thanks to the appetites of evicted gophers.

* * *

Nicky Diebert, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Diebert of 84 Marymont avenue in Atherton, probably won't get his fingers trapped in small spaces again.

With characteristic thoroughness, a Menlo Park Fire District report details what happened the last time he tried.

'Twas Sunday afternoon.

The boy got his second finger, left hand, caught in a small tin tube.

Captain Loren Grider responded to a plea for help.

Capt. Grider spent 40 minutes unsticking the gadget.

He used three small bandages to cover scrapes which attended the removing of the tube.

Any other questions?

* * *

"It's like being in favor of sin to be opposed to storm drainage projects now," declared City Councilman Charles P. Burgess this week in commenting on the unanimity of Atherton and Menlo Park officials over joint drainage projects.

* * *

The sound of the klaxon atop the headquarters station of the Menlo Park Fire district does more than broadcast fire warnings.

A six-year-old the other day informed us that the 5 p.m. signal, put out as a sort of community service by the firemen, now causes all the small fry to drop what they are doing and run home.

Why? Because everybody then knows that it's "Mickey Mouse Club" time again, of course.

* * *

With income tax time coming around again, Harold Hawkins, San Francisco district director of Infernal Revenue,, recently commented that even the tax men have their laughs.

A taxpayer of this area, he said, recently declared two dependents, finally admitted one was his mother-in-law, the other his dog. A further check, after he had been convinced that the dog didn't count, showed the taxpayer had spent $50 more on support of the dog than of the mother-in-law.

Menlo Building Barometer

Seven building permits, authorizing a total of $24,275 worth of construction, were issued by the City of Menlo Park during the week ended Jan. 31. They included:

NEW RESIDENCE

Arnold Development company, owner; Peninsula Pacific Construction company, builder; 40 Politzer drive; $19,000.

OTHER PERMITS

Menlo Florist, owner; Dalton signs, builder; new sign at 807 Santa Cruz avenue; $25.

Mrs. D. Rubadue, owner; Thomas Gion, builder; residence alterations at 1430 Almanor avenue; $3000.

Your City's Business:

School Unification Plan Meets Spirit, Letter of Law

By CHARLES P. BURGESS
City Councilman, Menlo Park

Last spring a petition signed by the respective members of the Atherton and Menlo Park city councils was presented to the County Committee for School District Organization, asking that body to study the feasibility of forming a Menlo-Atherton Unified School District.

One hearing was held on the proposal, but no indication has been received yet as to whether the committee will give the proposition serious consideration.

It is of some interest to note the policies of the State Board of Education with regard to the reorganization of school districts, for this is the body to which county committees are responsible and must make their recommendations.

In July, 1953, the state board adopted the following:

"The broad program of the State Board of Education is to secure the initiation of local action which, with the approval of the electors of the school districts concerned, will lead to the reorganization of local units of school administration in conformity with present day conditions and standards.

"The unified school district seems to be the most nearly ideal plan for school district organization. The formation of unified school districts should, therefore, be given every consideration in the studies carried on throughout the state . . ."

The Education Code of the State of California (Section 4920) states that "Each county committee . . . shall, under the direction of the State Board of Education, formulate plans and recommendations for the unification or other reorganization of the school districts in the county . . ."

The State Board of Education has set standards for such unification Districts should include potentially 10,000 pupils in grades kindergarten through 12, but as low as 2000 will be considered, however. The unified district should include all of the area embraced in a community.

Existing high school districts should not be split unless each new part is adequate in size, and assessed valuation per pupil in each part does not deviate greatly from the original district, and unless each part represents a separate community unit.

The unified district shall be planned to effect the greatest possible equalization of the tax base.

It seems to me that our proposal is certainly in keeping with the letter and the spirit of the state board's policy.

At Oct. 31, 1955, there were 7793 pupils enrolled in the Las Lomitas, Menlo Park and Ravenswood school districts. There were also 5540 in Sequoia high school district of which at least 1500 would come from the above three districts, making a total of 9293. This is certainly a "potential 10,000." The area comes much closer to being a community unit than existing Sequoia, for we have few common ties with Redwood City and the north.

Finally, by tieing the above-average resources of the Menlo Park school district with the below-average resources of Ravenswood, we surely accomplish the equalization requirement, without injuring the districts to the north.

It would seem then, that if the County committee adheres to the policies of the state body under whose direction by law it functions, favorable consideration of our petition should result.

3 Firemen Hurt As Flames Razed Atherton Landmark

25 Years Ago:

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

January 30, 1931:

"A $50,000 home in Atherton, for years one of the show places of the Peninsula millionaire colony is in ruins after a fire which swept through it last Saturday night, resulting in injuries to three Menlo Park firemen during a four-hour battle against the flames.

"The home is that of Dr. Albert L. Howard, wealthy retired and socially prominent physician of Atherton.

"Assistant Fire Chief Steven Gilbert of the local department may lose a finger of his right hand as a result of being cut with glass while fighting the fire . . .

"Firemen Ernest Carter and Jock Tuttle Jr. were cut about the face and hands with glass.

"The Howard home was one of the oldest in Atherton and was located on an estate on Selby lane, being a landmark in the community."

MORE PAVED STREETS PLANNED FOR CITY

"At a meeting of the City Council held last Tuesday evening an improvement program calling for the paving of four streets east of the Southern Pacific tracks was instituted . . .

"The cost of the work . . . will be somewhere between $25,000 and $30,000 . . .

"The following streets are the ones under consideration: Oak Grove avenue between the highway and the northwesterly city limits; Pine avenue between Oak Grove and Ravenswood avenues; Cherry street between Laurel and Pine; Laurel avenue between Ravenswood and Glenwood avenues."

City Eyes Broader Control over Taxis

Possibility of extending Menlo Park city control over taxicab operations within the city, beyond the previously proposed screening of drivers, to regulate such things as fares and number of taxis allowed, was raised this week before the city council by Peter Gerbo, operator of a taxi service here.

Already under consideration by the council has been an ordinance requiring all taxi drivers in the community to be screened by the police department.

Consideration of a broader law will be undertaken at the council's informal meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., at which time Gerbo is to present further arguments in favor of his proposal.

Not a Leg:

TO STAND ON

"What has four legs and can't run?" asked Walter as he trotted into the office with his report.

"A dead horse," we replied.

"Nope," said Walter, "A tiger tied to a tree."

"Supposing," we conjured, "that we had said 'a tiger tied to a tree! Would you have considered that correct?"

Walter shook his head. "Then I would have said, 'a table'."

Burton Is Named Member of Board For Las Lomitas

Appointment of John R. Burton, 1921 Camino de las Robles, Menlo Park, to the Las Lomitas School District Board of Trustees, was announced last week by County Schools Superintendent James R. Tormey, to fill the unexpired term of John Sullivan, who resigned from the board last November.

Tormey's appointment of Burton was approved by the County Board of Education at its regular meeting, also last week, such approval having been made mandatory by action of the state legislature.

Burton, an industrial engineer for the Columbia-Geneva division of the United States Steel company, has been a resident of Menlo Park for the past 10 years. A member of the Las Lomitas District's Citizens' Advisory Committee, he was elected to the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization by the county Trustee Representatives at their annual meeting last October.

The new school board member and his wife, Bala, are parents of three girls—Judy 13, a fershman at Menlo-Atherton high school; Toni, a sixth grade student at Las Lomitas school, and Helen, not yet five.

A member of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers, Burton is currently president of the Columbians, a social and service organization within United State Steel company.

Burton was the unanimous nomination of a citizens' nominating committee appointed by Tormey to make recommendations to him. The committee included Mrs. Kenneth Cuthbertson, Atherton, chairman; James W. Holmes and Dr. Howard Jones of Menlo Park; and school board representatives Mrs. Ben C. Duniway and Richard Price. Term of office for the new trustee expires June 30, 1958.

Rotarians Hear Music Program

Paul Kegley and Austin Mosher of Palo Alto and San Francisco, respectively, were on hand yesterday to provide music for the Menlo Park Rotary club's regular weekly meeting at the Fraternal meeting hall, 645 Roble avenue.

Mosher has been in charge of Stern Grove musical events in San Francisco, in addition to being known as a teacher.

The local unit meets at 12:15 p.m. each Wednesday.

EPA Burglary Nets $670 from Club

San Mateo county sheriff's officers are continuing their investigation of a burglary which Jan. 21 netted $670 in coin and currency from the Pal's club, 1335 Bayshore highway in East Palo Alto.

Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore said that the loot was stored in four cigar boxes in the club's back room. Entrance was gained by prying open a back door with a screw driver.

Charley Hipp

Private funeral services were held Tuesday for Charley Barney Hipp, a resident of Menlo Park for the past three years who died in Palo Alto last Friday, at the age of 93.

Hipp, who was a native of Michigan City, Ind., had resided here at 800 Roble avenue. Prior to moving here he had lived, for 35 years, at Mesa, Ariz. and prior to that time had been a farmer in Indiana.

He was not married. Survivors include three nephews, Ronald Hipp of Menlo Park, Darrel Hipp of New Iberia, La. and Donovan Hipp of Lake Charles, La.

The Rev. Orval Oswald, pastor of Bethany Lutheran church here, officiated at Tuesday's rites, which were conducted from the Roller and Hapgood funeral home in Palo Alto.

Interment was at Alta Mesa Memorial park.

Mario J. Menini

Funeral services were to be held this week for Mario John Menini, an employee of the Menlo Park school district for the past year, who died at his home, 301 Yale road, after being stricken with a heart attack Monday afternoon. He was 41.

Menini was cabinetmaker and chief in charge of carpentry and building maintenance service for the school district.

According to Menlo Park police, Menini was mowing the lawn at his home, when he was stricken. Menlo Park Fire District firemen responded but were unable to revive the man. He had been under treatment of a doctor for the past five years, they were told.

Menini, who was a native of San Francisco, had been employed as a maintenance man for the school district.

Survivors include Menini's wife, Rose, who resides at the family address and a daughter, Nadine Menini, also of Menlo Park. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Giovanni Menini of San Francisco; brothers John and Lee Menini of San Francisco and sisters Mrs. Mary Mosce of San Francisco and Ann Martinelli of Spokane, Wash.

Remains were taken to the Valente-Marini-Perata mortuary in San Francisco, where funeral services were conducted. Local arrangements were by the Johnston and Tinney colonal chapel.

Mother Moran Notes Jubilee At Convent Here

When Mother Mary Moran celebrates her Golden Jubilee (50th anniversary) as a Professed Religious in the Society of the Sacred Heart on Sunday, Feb. 5, several hundred friends, including many former pupils in classes which she taught during 36 years as an instructor at St. Joseph's school, will greet her at a reception and Solemn Benediction planned in her honor at the Convent of the Sacred Heart.

The reception will start at 4 p.m.

Mother Moran came to St. Josephs' school and to Menlo Park in September of 1908 and taught at the school until June of 1916 when she was called to the Seattle convent of the Sacred Heart. In 1920 she returned to St. Joseph's and remained on the faculty until June of 1949.

During the greater part of the time, she taught the sixth and seventh grade classes.

Mother Moran has remained in residence at the convent, since her retirement from active teaching.

LOYOLA SEPTIC TANK SERVICE, 727 Fourth avenue, and the Central Sewer Service, 719 Fourth avenue, Redwood City, formerly were two separate businesses, but have been combined into a partnership by J. Blaylock and M. Schmidt. The company specializes in septic tank, drainfields, pumping repairs and maintenance, and they have worked for numerous contractors in the area. Through their fine service to these contractors, they have won for themselves many other jobs, and they offer only quality work. The two owners do their own work, and service is available on a 24-hour basis. There is no extra charge made for night work or weekend service. The company is fully insured, and they believe in reliable an dhonest service to insure satisfaction of their clients. They have been in the business for nine years.

RICHFIELD SERVICE STATION, 399 Willow road, Menlo Park, offers complete automotive service including lubrication that will add to the life of an automobile, and keep it running smoothly. Mr. Creekmore, owner of the station, started in business here 15 months ago, and during that short time, has gained many friends and clients who make his station a regular stop for their service needs. In addition to the usual service, the station carries a complete line of accessories, tires and batteries. As a hobby, Creekmore is working on a carburetor which will give gasoline mileage up to 40 miles a gallon. He also is a Cub Scout sponsor, and his hobbies include bowling and fishing. He has three children, two attending local schools. Shown above is Cleo Creekmore left), and Roy Maynard, attendant.

OXFORD DELICATESSEN AND CAFETERIA, 860 Santa Cruz avenue, owned by Ray and Lillian Boyce, offer the community the finest in imported and domestic delicacies. The company has been in business in Menlo Park nearly five years. The delicatessen and cafeteria is open daily from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and the delicatessen is also open Sundays. In the cafeteria five different entrees are offered daily, as well as a variety of cold salads and features from the soda fountain. The delicatessen cuts and wraps cheese and offers a complete line of fancy and staple groceries. Shown above are Ray Boyce, Dorothy Vargas, Beth Daley, Evelyn Quinn and Chef Irvin Poole. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce live in Menlo Park and they have four children.

SANDY MacKAY, GENERAL CONTRACTOR, 313 Marmona drive, Menlo Park, has been in business here for six years, although he has been in the building and contracting business for nine years. Specialties of Sandy MacKay are construction of homes, kitchens, remodeling and carpentry service. Because he is working in a field he enjoys, MacKay takes great pains with his work, and makes every effort toward perfection. Free estimates are given cheerfully on all jobs. MacKay is a member of the Elks Lodge, of Palo Alto, and a member of the Palo club, and the Palo Alto Tennis club. His hobbies include tournament tennis, and he has won numerous trophies. He is married, and has two children. Shown above are (left to right) Howard B. Lang, foreman, Gordon Sears, carpenter; and Sandy MacKay.

Why The 49ers Are Not Going to Come 'Home' to Menlo Park

By DENNIS ANDERSON
Recorder Sports Editor

Every time the San Francisco 49ers make an administrative move, their plaintive Peninsula fans renew hope that the pros might move back to their old training site in Menlo Park.

When president Tony Morabito fired head coach Red Strader, the hopeful 49ers boosters speculated that the club would make a quick move back. The change of training headquarters last summer to Strader's alma mater at St. Mary's had apparently been an unpopular one with the players.

Then when Frankie Albert was appointed head coach, the local fans were beside themselves. Albert has emphasized both publicly and privately that he has always been in favor of the Menlo college training site used by the 49ers for eight years until last season.

But it's all to no avail. The 49ers aren't "coming home."

They can't come back to Menlo Park. There is no place for them to practice and there is not going to be.

Menlo college, the previous site, is not going to be available. Officially the reason listed is that the college's expansion and summer program have taken up so much of the athletic field space that there is just not enough room for the footballers to practice any more.

Actually there are many other reasons which may contribute more to the "No" answer President William E. Kratt says he is certain the Board of Dirtctors would give to any inquiry regarding return by the 49ers.

Among them may be the 49ers' well-known public relations and business practices which rub so many people the wrong way.

Since there is no other developed site in the immediate area, 49er boosters revived the plan of an athletic center with football field and bleachers at Burgess park.

The proposed sports center, the idea of which was first presented about five years ago, was to include facilities for the 49ers to practice and for Menlo college, Menlo school and Menlo-Atherton to play their home games.

A baseball field could also be laid out, providing Menlo Park with a sports arena which it could well use and be proud of.

It would be ideal from the Menlo college and M-A point of view. Neither has bleachers for home games at present and because of Atherton law prohibiting conducting any commercial enterprises neither could charge admission if it had the facilities.

Both schools are losing money on every home game they play.

Admission charges at high school and junior college games and for 49er scrimmages would not only help the teams but could also help ease the burden of such an arena for the taxpayers.

But legal and physical barriers make development of Burgess impossible at the moment.

When the 18 acres comprising Burgess park were sold by the United States government to Menlo Park under a 20-year bond in 1948 for $78,000 several conditions were imposed. One of those was that the area could not be used for any profit-making venture until the bonds were retired.

This restriction could be lifted by paying off the full price on a portion of the site on which the center could be constructed. But Menlo Park city fathers have demonstrated in the past that they believe large capital outlay, over $15,000, should be financed only by bond issue.

The philosophy of the city council has been that people living here now shouldn't pay the entire price for facilities which people living here in the future will use.

The city council, although it extended an official invitation to the 49ers to return to the Menlo Park area, has ignored stadium possibilities and is developing a master use plan for the entire Burgess park area according to a preliminary plan made last year by San Carlos architect John Boucher.

It did not include any bleacher or closed field site.

At the time, Boucher was originally retained by the council and the master-use plan was initiated the 49ers were still practicing at Menlo college and Sequoia's field was available for most M-A home games. The need for a stadium was not as apparent as it is now.

Suggestions that the 49ers could at least hold their practices at Burgess are also void. Even if they did not use the field until after training camp was broken and the players were living at home, dressing room facilities at Burgess are at present wholly inadequate for such an operation.

A suggested alternative to Burgess as a stadium site has been Nealon park, which is not hampered by government restrictions. But the park is already crowded and heavily used, its parking facilities would not even begin to handle football crowds and operation of such a plant there would probably interfere greatly with the activities of Little House.

The only other plan left would be to procure new land and develop it from scratch. This, too, meets opposition.

Bond issues are presently being prepared for a city library and two desperately-needed park sites in the Willows and Belle Haven. The park sites issue must be pushed for land for them might not be available much longer.

Bonding for these facilities limit the council from considering any other financing.

And even if some move toward development of training and/or practice facilities for the 49ers were taken it is doubtful such facilities could be ready in time to meet their needs.

The only place to look is to the future. Additional Stanford Village land and possibly an ideal site in that land may be available within 10 years. But in the meantime two new high schools are coming on the scene in Woodside and East Palo Alto and increased interest in local sports is going to build pressure toward having more municipal athletic facilities.

Bears Meet Sequoia Cagers Here Tomorrow Night

'Spoilers' Role Eyed by Varsity

No longer holding any chance of their own at winning the South Peninsula Athletic league varsity basketball championship, Menlo-Atherton's cagers will tomorrow night attempt to square accounts with rival Sequoia and at the same time eliminate the Cherokees from title contention.

A capacity crowd of more than 1500 is expected to watch the contest in the Menlo-Atherton gym. It will start shortly before 9 o'clock, following the lightweight preliminary at 7:30.

Should Coach Bob Ayers' team defeat Sequoia, defending champion Lincoln, now leading the league by one game would be a virtual shoo-in for the crown.

The Bears have only two games remaining on their schedule after the Sequoia contest. They host Willow Glen at M-A next Friday night and travel to San Jose the following week.

Sequoia came from behind in each of its first five games to win all five and lead the SPAL at mid-season. Lincoln moved into a tie by stopping the Cherokee streak last Friday 53-43 and Willow Glen knocked Ray Dimick's troops out of the lead Tuesday with a 46-43 surprise win.

The Tribe upset M-A 64-50 in their first round meeting, tying the all-time series between the schools at four wins apiece since their first meeting in 1952. Tomorrow night will be the "rubber game."

Menlo-Atherton still had a crack at the title until Tuesday and even now claims a mathematical chance, although Lincoln is rated a shoo-in by most followers. The Lions' 55-47 win over M-A put them past their last great obstacle.

Their remaining three games are against lower-rung teams Willow Glen, Palo Alto and San Jose. Only Willow Glen, which Lincoln meets tomorrow night, has displayed any upset capabilities.

Ayers' starting lineup tomorrow night will have Gary Dodson and rapidly improving Don DeFeo at forwards, Bill Hilton at center and Sonny McNitt and Bob Wendell at guards.

Dimick will counter with sophomore flash Nick Perez and Dave Sausedo at forwards, all-league candidate Fred Mitchell at center and Bob Pushlin and Sammy Darden at guards.

Almost 2000 prep fans jammed into the Lincoln gym Tuesday to watch one of the strangest games of the season. Menlo-Atherton outshot its foe both from the floor and the foul line, out-rebounded the Lions and presented a smoother-functioning offense.

But Lincoln was never behind after Wayne Thush canned three free throws in the last 26 seconds of the first quarter. The lead changed hands for the only time in the game at that point and Lincoln went ahead 13-12.

It was nip-and-tuck until the start of the fourth quarter when Rich Hosley and Lynn French each canned a pair of follow-up shots to boost the Lion lead to 49-39.

Hilton made a great attempt at saving the contest in the last minutes when he scored eight of

Lightweights May Cinch League Title

Sequoia, the only team which stands a chance of catching Menlo-Atherton's high-flying light weight basketball team in the South Peninsula Athletic league championship race, will attempt to do just that tomorrow night when the Cherokees pose the last big obstacle between M-A and its second straight title.

The game, at the Menlo-Atherton gym, will begin at 7:30 o'clock as a preliminary to the varsity contest between the two schools. Should Coach Bob Ayers' crew win, only Willow Glen (4-3) and San Jose (1-6) will remain between it and an undefeated SPAL season.

M-A will not play next Tuesday. The Bruins close their home season against Willow Glen next Friday night.

Victory No. 14 of the season came easily for the locals Tuesday as they crushed Lincoln 55-40 at San Jose.

Menlo-Atherton scored only 10 field goals to the Lions' 12, but referees Pete Denevi and Elgin Margin whistled 50 fouls in the game and the Bruins converted 35 of 52 charity attempts to keep in front all the way.

The fast-breaking M-A five rushed to a 16-4 lead at the end of the first quarter and the issue was never in doubt thereafter.

Lincoln committed 30 fouls and M-A 20. The lions had 28 free throw tries and made 16 of them.

Hal Turner topped Menlo-Atherton scoring with 13, 11 of them from the foul line . Don Powell had 10. Bill George scored 10 for Lincoln.

Even if Sequoia, the pre-season favorite, should upset M-A tomorrow night the Bears would still hold a one-game edge with two to go.

The Cherokees are the tallest team in the league and have the most capable scorer in forward Gary Geagan. Tall Dave Amednolo also helps in the scoring from the other forward spot.

Center Bill Stewart and guards Jim Haggerty and Marvin Zertuche round out the first five, but their inconsistent scoring has hurt the Tribe so far.

Zertuche and Stewart both threw in 14 in Tuesday's impressive 56-40 conquest of Willow Glen however.

Ayers will open with Dale Crane and Hal Turner at forwards, Jim Sherman at center and Olin Hughes and Don Powell at guards.

Close behind these and slated for heavy action are forwards Bob Heredia and Bill Adams.

No. 13 came effortlessly for the Bruins last Friday night at Palo Alto. The score was 48-31, maintaining M-A's average margin of victory in SPAL games at 17 points.

As usual everybody got into the act and the scoring was evenly distributed. It was 19-9 at halftime and 31-18 at the end of the third quarter.

Bruin starters and reserves alike outscored the Li'l Vikes in every quarter.

Crane took his turn at high-scoring honors for M-A with 10. Powell had eight and Turner seven. Palo Alto's Ko Abe, second leading scorer in the division, topped both teams with 16.

Mozart Birthday Observance Set

The Palo Alto Sinfonietta society will commemorate the 200th anniversary of the birth of Mozart with the performance of the Coronation Mass for Chorus and Orchestra, at a concert to be given February 8 at the Community Center, Palo Alto.

This will be the first time that this particular work of the great composer has ever been perfromed on the West coast, and from all available information, it may constitute the premiere performance in the United States.

The Onlooker:

Brandt, LaCour May Attend Santa Clara

By DENNIS ANDERSON

Latest and most valid rumors to date regarding the future of Northern California's two brightest prep basketball stars, Fred LaCour of San Francisco St. Ignatius and Ralph Brandt of Bellarmine, is that both are ticketed for the University of Santa Clara.

A source close to Bellarmine and Santa Clara says Brandt is virtually a cinch to enroll there. Brandt is already auditing a course at Broncoville and Coach Bob Ferrick bends his ear with every opportunity.

Earlier rumors had LaCour ticketed for USF and both Brandt and Bellarmine coach Mike Pellini set for Seattle University. Almost every major college basketball team in the nation is bidding for the boys.

If Santa Clara gets them, you can expect USF's domination of the California Basketball association to end in about two years.

Winter Practice

One of the reasons why South San Francisco is developing into the baseball powerhouse of the North Peninsula Athletic league is the ideal winter semi-pro set up in that city.

Head baseball coach Frank Kelly and assistant Bob Brian both coach semi-pro teams from December to February and who should play on these clubs but nearly all the top players on the South City varsity.

Among the Warriors getting in a few early licks are all-NPAL players Doug McChesney, centerfielder, and Al Vom Steeg, catcher. Also in the outfield is Joe Butcher, South City's all-PAL footballer, Brian Fisher and Don Johnson.

The pitchers include Don Anderson, who quarterbacked Ray DeJong's grid squad last fall, and Paul Lencioni. All these names will also appear in the Warrior baseball lineup next spring.

Some "outsiders" are on the club, too. They include Stan Laufer and Angelo Colombo of Serra, the latter an All-Catholic shortstop.

Laufer and Colombo both play for the Adobe Post American Legion team during the summer. Laufer and several other Adobe players, Mickey Cecchi, Mickey Geenan and Jimmy Knecht, are also playing basketball at Serra at present.

Acorns Host Rival SRMA Saturday

Menlo School's varsity basketball team, solidly in second place in the Bay Counties Athletic league, meets long-time rival San Rafael Military academy Saturday afternoon at Menlo college.

Tipoff for the Class B preliminary game will be at 1:30 p.m. Cub teams from the two schools wil play in the morning.

Coach Bob Nelson's Acorns will attempt to repeat an earlier 59-37 victory and stay in contention for the BCAL title. The locals are at present just one game behind league-leading Emery. Emery has a 6-0 record and Menlo has 5-1.

Menlo's lightweights are also still in contention but must topple San Rafael to stay in the race. Emery also leads the B League with a 6-0 mark. Menlo has 4-2.

San Rafael edged Dan Diestal's troops 21-15 last month in their first meeting. The Menlo lightweights have won four of five since then.

Next Tuesday the Menlo quints travel to Petaluma to play St. Vincent's. Tipoff for the B game will be 3 p.m. Menlo won both ends of its twin bill with St. Vincent's here last month.

Nelson's starting lineup for both games will probably have Bill Fuller and Nick Fabian, center Gib Virgo and guards Mike Bambauer and John Bukleley.

Diestal will open the lightweight games with Stan and Jon Ryan at forwards, Jeff Davenport at center and Fred Bauman and Pete Chope at guards.

The Acorns returned to action for the first time since last week's final examinations Tuesday and swept both ends of a doubleheader from Concordia at Oakland.

Tom Lagerquist and Fuller sparked a fourth quarter rally which netted the varsity a 42-39 victory and the Bs exploded in the second half to turn in a 38-31 conquest.

Menlo led throughout the first three quarters of the varsity contest but Concordia spurted into a five-point advantage at the start of the final canto. Then Lagerquist hit a fielder and Fuller bucketed three straight goals to erase the deficit and put the Acorns in front to stay.

Concordia's Woodall led all the scorers with 16 points.

Menlo's lightweights opened slowly but caught fire late in the going and won going away. Diestal's charges trailed 4-0 at the end of the first period, but came back for a 12-all tie at half time. Bauman hit three set shots to spark the rally.

In the third quarter Chope threw in three field goals and Davenport two to give the Acorns a 24-21 lead. Then in the final stanza Davenport exploded for 10 points and there was no doubt about the outcome.

Davenport finished the game with 16 points for high honors. Chope and Bauman each had eight for Menlo. Prangue had 14 and Hopkins 10 for Concordia.

Ben McGuire Out As SM Track Coach

The helm of San Mateo's track team has changed hands for the second time in as many years. Officials at the high school announced last week Bernie Wagner and Harold Dunne would replace Ben McGuire as head varsity track coach.

Several other switches were were made, including Jack Alexander taking over frosh-soph baseball from Harold Fearon, and Earl Connolley replacing Lloyd Walker as head swimming coach. McGuire will coach the San Mateo golf team.

Principal James I. Stewart, in announcing the changes, said that varsity baseball coach Dan Lacy would return from a sabbatical leave in time to resume his duties. Lacy has guided the Bearcats to two straight Peninsula Athletic league championships.

Carter vs. Faszholz In Scoring Duel

One of the greatest junior college scoring duels of the season is expected to unfold in the Menlo college gym tomorrow night when Menlo's Kent Carter and Tommy Faszholz of Concordia college in Oakland meet for the first time.

Tip off in the Coast Conference jaycee game is 8 p.m. Admission at Menlo is free.

Carter, the all-Northern California product of Redding's Shasta high school, set two new Menlo records Tuesday when he counted 42 points in guiding the Oaks to a 85-64 victory over Monterey-Peninsula college.

Faszholz, who has been averaging 29.9 points per game in CCJC play, scored 36 the same night though Concordia lost to San Jose JC 77-70. Carter's season average has been better than 27 points per game.

Carter erased the standing Menlo team and gym records with his effort. Scoring on 16 field goals and 10 of 12 free throw attempts, he topped the gym mark of 38 set by Menlo's Carlos Bea in 1952.

The team mark was also 38—hel dby Bea and Carter. Kent his that figure in the Hartnell Invitational tournament at Salinas in December.

Carter had 16 points at halftime and Menlo, bothered by Monterey's tight zone defense, led by 36-33. At the start of the second half the Oaks advanced their margin to seven points and went into a semi-stall.

Monterey's zone loosened and then the Lobos switched to a man-to-man, allowing Coach Bob Wuesthoff's Menlo offense to operate more smoothly.

That was when Carter went to work. He made eight field goals in the first 10 minutes of the half himself and Monterey scored only three points.

Monterey went back into its zone in the final minutes but Menlo had already upped its lead to 20 points. The Lobos attempted a comeback with Bud Brasher scoring 12 and Mike Farrell 11 points in the final nine minutes.

But with four minutes left, hte Lobos' third player fouled out,

Still Have Hopes:

Wrestlers Down Carlmont, Stay Halfway Up in League Standings

Members of Menlo-Atherton high school's wrestling team, still hopeful of winning their letters for a so-so season, got new reason to be hopeful Tuesday as they downed Carlmont 31-21, at the Highlanders' hillside home to the north.

The team, which may or may not end the season with a .500 average, has a couple of other things to be proud of, also: of a six-man delegation at San Jose's invitational meeting Saturday, the locals got one second place and one third place.

Today the locals are going to have another chance to get better statisticswise, as they meet South San Francisco. They beat the north county team when the two groups met in a first round test.

Meanwhile, Coach Sam Lugonja admitted that M-A's standings will be largely influenced by a PAL commissioners' decision, which has been called for in the case of two meets involving M-A. One of these was the San Mateo grapple, and the other was a tie called at Sequoia. Reviewed, both matches may be awarded either way.

At the San Jose invitational, unlimited weight contender Virgil Askew brought home a second place for M-A and George Brown, 165-pounder, collected a third place. "Not bad," said Lugonja, considering that the local delegation had only five men and teams were drawn from all over the bay area and the San Joaquin valley.

For today's matches, said the coach, he's planning a couple of substitutions in the lineup, so the starting roster will be (weights in parentheses):

Cliff Davis (103), Jim Kajikawa (112), Dan Hack (120), Roland Kumagai or Larry Scott (127), Dave Judge (133), Kent Morton (145), Barry Davidson (154), George Brown (165, Bob Anderson (175), Don Wild (191) and Askew, unlimited.

Bay Area Semi-Pros To Converge On Burgess Gym for AA Tourney

Sixteen semi-pro class AA basketball teams, representing a dozen bay area and San Joaquin valley cities, were this week putting the finishing touches on their games in preparation for the San Mateo county invitational basketball tournament to start Feb. 12 at Burgess park gym.

The tourney, a single elimination affair, will run for four Sundays. Games will start at 11 a.m. on the first two Sundays and at 12 noon on March 4; the final championship game will be played at 8 p.m. on the latter date.

Because of the number of teams entered, the first round will extend over two weekends and the "sudden death" finale will take place in a single day.

Ralph Shaw, county recreation director in charge of the loop, pointed out that the games should be among the best to be played in the county this year. Several of the participating teams are outstanding in their home cities, and the AA classification is sufficiently restrictive to make for even competition.

San Mateo county is represented by one team, L. C. Smith company of San Mateo.

Complete first round pairings are as follows:

San Francisco Fire department vs. Chipponeri & Robinson (Modesto); Leonards Sport shop (San Jose) vs. Giacomini Trucking (Petaluma); Lowes Realty (Palo Alto) vs. Fisher & Peterson (Modesto); Parchester Villagers (Oakland) vs. Whizzer's A. C. (Vallejo). Green Frog (San Jose) vs. Quality Radiators (Stockton); Franklin Downs (Modesto) vs. Leseman Carpets (Sunnyvale); Ensor A. C. (Berkeley) vs. Bill's Sport shop (Hayward).

Bear Junior Varsity Basbetballers Take First Loss, 53-57 to Vikings

Coach Bill Loftus' Menlo-Atherton high school junior varsity cage quintet, its undefeated season rudely terminated Friday at Palo Alto, faced an undefeated Campbell aggregation here yesterday and, the mentor said, team members had high hopes of redeeming their tarnished fortunes.

All regular starters were expected to be ready to go. This would be a considerable improvement over the situation which existed last Friday, when two members of the regular starting lineup were out of the game with colds and a third, center Bill Bull, found himself playing without glasses.

The Jayvees will end the week's campaign Friday, when they play Mountain View there. They've already defeated that particular team and, Loftus said, it's hoped that a repeat performance can be put together.

Those out of last Friday's game were Jerry Bogue, a forward, and Barney Ford, guards. Loftus said those two key players were expected to be back yesterday.

The Viking Jayvees went to work on Menlo-Atherton Friday promptly after the starting whistle, and were ahead at the end of the first canto. Menlo-Atherton pulled ahead, however, and outscored the rivals from across the San Francisquito in both the second and third stanzas. But in a final drive, the Vikings managed to pull ahead and the score was 53-47 as the final buzzer sounded.

49er Cage Team:

SEEKS FOES

Several members of the San Francisco 49ers, who have organized a basketball team, are looking for future opponents.

Teams wishing to tackle the 49ers should call Manager Bill Johnson at Davenport 5-3164 or write him at 558 Bryson avenue, Palo Alto.

The squad includes Billy Wilson, Bob St. Claire, Gordy Soltau, Y. A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenney Joe Arenas, Hardy Brown, Joe Perry, Doug Hogland and Al Carapella.

All the team members live in the Menlo Park area.

Wilson won three basketball letters at San Jose State, while Soltau played one year on the Minnesota varsity. St. Clair, standing 6-9, performed at the University of San Francisco and Tulsa.

Coaches See Signup of 250 for Spring Sports

More than 250 Menlo-Atherton high school athletes were this week considering their proficiency ratings in various sports, and coaches were once again preparing to change their jobs, as spring sports' signup time opened at the boys' gym on the Ringwood avenue campus.

More than 100 boys are expected to turn out to man three track divisions; another 40 or 50 are expected to try out for places on the three swimming teams which are to take to the pool; last year's turnout of 85 for frosh-soph baseball is expected to be duplicated or nearly so.

Add to this the 15 or 20 expected to turn out for varsity baseball and the number of athletes expected nears one-fourth of all boys in school.

Practice in most sports divisions will not get underway until next week, according to Athletic Director Robert Ayers. Rosters may not be entirely complete by next week either, since some of the aspirants in various sports fields are still engaged in winter sports competition.

Here's how the coaches viewed the coming season:

SWIMMING

Coach Tommy O'Neill's natators will include in their ranks at least two veterans who can be counted on, although it may be necessary to raid the B and C divisions for divers and other categories of swimmers.

Graduated last year, following impressive showings in water sports, were Mike Bright, number 1 varsity diver and Pete Andersen, O'Neill's backstroke ace. Freestyler Paul Lorton is also expected to be on hand.

On the other hand, the coach said, free style sprinter Andy Schwarz, PAL 200-yard champ Bill Augenstein are expected to be improved, if possible over last year's form. Both can be placed in events other than their specialties, also.

TRACK

About 100 are expected to turn out for field sports, which are run in three divisions.

Coach Don Dorfmeier said that the Ringwood avenue field assigned to his troops is in pretty bad shape as the result of recent rains, but it shouldn't slow up early practice any more than the fields at other schools.

On the other hand, he said, the track is pretty fast.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Coach Howard Costello, whose minions last year placed fifth in a six-team aggregation, this week said he didn't know what veterans had made up their minds whether to play or not.

He conceded, however, that pitchers Dick Sanchez and Don Powell, up from the frosh-soph, might prove to be some help.

However, said Costello, a remembrance of what happened last year indicates the Bears have no place to go but up, whether or not all eligible veterans return.

FROSH-SOPH BASEBALL

Coach Frank Bettencourt, who last spring was greeted by about 85 enthusiastic applicants, said yesterday he expects about the same turnout this year.

Although competition is stiffer, he said, Little League and other organized recreational outfits are sending along enough good quality players to assure a good turnout for the high school teams.

Pitchers and catchers will start workouts Feb. 6, he said and a complete roster should be available a couple of days thereafter.

He noted that Menlo-Atherton was tied for second place last year and said he had hopes the Bruins would do as well this year.

Palo Alto and Sequoia should supply the toughest competition on the schedule, he said.

READY NEW PRODUCTION

IN PLAY CAST—Jane George, veteran Menlo Park actress, talks over Menlo Players' Guild latest production, "Ladies of the Corridor," with Cory Dudley, also of Menlo Park, who will make his debut on the stage of Burgess park Little theatre Feb. 17. The second production in the Guild's 17th season wil lplay Feb. 17-18, 24-25. —Ken Patton photo

Cast Rehearses New Guild Play

Five Menlo Park men and women are now in rehearsal for the Menlo Players Guild production of "Ladies of the Corridor," two-act drama by Dorothy Parker and Arnaud d'Usseau. The play will be presented Feb. 17-18, 24-25 in Burgess Little theater.

Director Jerry Le Grand picked Cory Dudley, Gordon Sears, Harriet Shore, Winona Walston and Bob Pierce of this city to play leading parts in the Broadway play which will have its west coast premiere with the local showing.

Completing the cast of 16 are Pat Kallenbach, Stan Cottrell, W. Eddy Russell, Charles Dickensen Lucille Monnette, Dorothy Higginbotham, Paul Schaefer, Georgeanna Meier, Mary Anderson and Ruby Bernstein.

The theme of "Ladies of the Corridor" is the wasted lives of these women who live alone in small residential hotels throughout the United States. They have plenty of money and more than plenty of time; their only occupation is to spend one and kill the other. The play is set in a hotel in New York.

Al Accurso and Al Julian, two of the brightest hopes in the San Jose State boxing team, learned the rudiments of the ring game at Sequoia high, in Redwood City, from former Spartan star Bob Andersen.

Hillview, Encinal, Menlo Oaks Teams Win in Saturday Cage Play

By BOB KINSLEY

Last Saturday at Burgess gym, four very exciting games took place with Hillview, Encinal and Menlo Oaks teams recording wins.

In the first affair, Hillview seventh grade had a narrow escape but beat Menlo Oaks 21-17 in spite of a halftime the score was all tied up at 9-9. But, in the second half Hillview scored 12 points to Menlo Oaks' eight tallies. The biggest scoring quarter for either team was the third quarter for Hillview as they picked up eight points.

In the second seventh grade game, Encinal really pulled it out of the fire in the last quarter to win the game 20-14. At the end of the third quarter, Encinal trailed the boys from St. Joseph, 11-7. In the last quarter Encinal scored 13 points to Menlo Oaks' three points.

In the first game eighth grade it was Menlo Oaks against Hillview with Menlo Oaks coming out at the end of the game the victors by only four points in a real exciting battle, 31-27. At the end of the third quarter the score was 24-10, in favor of Menlo Oaks. But Hillview didn't give up as they picked up 17 points in the last quarter to Menlo Oaks' seven.

The game's leading scorer was Jim Walker, Hillview's center with 13 points. For the winners, the leading scorer was Al Pryal with 11 points. He was followed by Menlo Oaks' 6-foot center, Dave Miller with 10 points.

HIGH SCORING

In the second eighth grade game and the last game of the day Encinal waxed St. Joseph by the score of 40-15. At the end of the first half the score was 19-9 in Encinal's favor. The heaviest scoring period for either team was the last quarter when Encinal picked up 15 points. The games leading scorer was Urmas Kaldaveer with 15 points. He was followed by teammate Frank Lee with 10 points.

St. Joseph picked up only one basket in the last quarter, as Encinal picked up six field goals.

Next Saturday's games will see St. Joseph's and Menlo Oaks seventh and eighth grade teams clash at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m., respectively, and Las Lomitas and Hillview teams take to the court at 10:15 and 11:45 a.m. Encinal teams drew a bye for the morning.

Menlo-Atherton head coach Howard Costello won three letters as a halfback at San Jose State.

Encinal Quints Still Unbeaten

Encinal school's fifth and sixth grade basketball teams continued their winning ways in school playground basketball competition Friday, and Oak Knoll continued to be the "terror of the west" by downing opponents from Laurel school.

But before last week's round can be considered complete. Willow and Hillview school fifth and sixth grade players have to get together to make up for a game cancelled on account of rain.

Encinal showed good form in both fifth and sixth grade play, beating Fremont 18-10 in the lower grade game, and 28-12 in the sixth grade contest.

Oak Knoll sixth grade, meanwhile, beat Laurel with one of their better scoring efforts, 32-17.

Date when the Willow-Hillview game would be played has not yet been announced, according to Stan Sexton, recreation department spokesman who is keeping statistics on the city-school district cooperatively sponsored league.

Barring other cancellations or changes in schedules to accommodate the Willow and Hillview teams, the following games will be played tomorrow (host teams listed first):

Oak Knoll vs. Willow in both fifth and sixth grade games; Encinal fifth grade draws a bye and Encinal sixth grade plays Laurel school.

Lum Toy Leads In City B Cage Loop

The necessity of having playoffs in the city recreation department's class B basketball league became more apparent last week, as Lum Toy florist emerged as leader of the five-team league's second half of play.

As of yesterday, however, there were still four games to go before the second round is complete. As of last night, the florists were to tangle with G.C. Liquors and Derry's was to tangle with Menlo Motors; the Menlo A.C. had the evening off by drawing a bye.

First round of play in the B league ended with a three way tie for first place with Lum Toy, the AC and Menlo Motors holding similar records. Statistics were somewhat garbled, however, by missed games.

Last week, the florists drubbed the motormen 26-21, demonstrating a substantial improvement during the past several weeks.

Rec department Director Stan Sexton, as arbiter for the league, said this week that extensive playoffs are in prospect, with perhaps a drawing of straws deciding who meets who in post-season games.

Next week, in the final round of play of the year, Derry's meets GC Liquors at 8 p.m. and Lum Toy meets the AC at 7 p.m.

As usual said Sexton, there's plenty of seating at the gym.

"Not only that," he added, "these teams have shown themselves to be pretty even in play thus far in the league."

Joel Whitlock threw the only no-hitter in M-A baseball history.

leaving them with just four men of their seven-man squad to finish the game.

Carter got his 38th point with four minutes to go.

Next to the sharp-shooting guard in scoring was John Rishwain, who had just turned out for the Menlo team Monday. Rishwain, who had concentrated on his studies in the first semester, scored 15 points.

He will go at guard along with Carter tonight. Bill Kupiec will be the center and Dave Brewer and Terry Angell the forwards.

Next Tuesday the Oaks play San Jose JC in the Jaguars' new gymnasium. San Jose topped Menlo in a first-round game 48-44.

Menlo's championship bubble burst wide open Saturday night when Contra Costa handed the Oaks their worst licking of the season 88-42 at Pittsburg high school.

The fast breaking Vikings, with whom Menlo tied for the CCJC championship last season, took complete command after the first two minutes. Menlo trailed 6-3 when the roof fell. Five minutes later East had established a seven-basket lead.

The game was never in doubt after that 6-3 score. With John Weekly and Rich Jones scoring 19, all of them in the first half.

East pressed Carter throughout the game and limited him to just four field goals. He led Menlo scoring with 13 points, his second lowest effort of the season.

Coaches Clinic Set For Seals Stadium

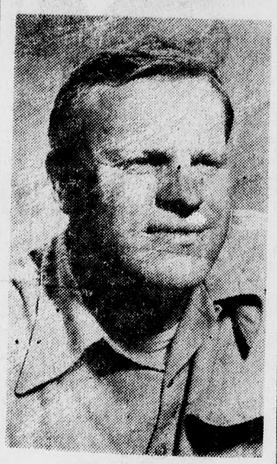

About 300 Northern California baseball coaches are expected to attend a special clinic February 17 at Benjamin Franklin junior high school in San Francisco.

The clinic will be directed by Walter (The Great) Mails. Faculty members include Bill Martin (Yankees), Lefty O'Doul (Vancouver), Ferris Fain (Sacramento), Tommy Heath (Sacramento), Bill Brenzel (Brooklyn), Tony Robello (Yankees), and Charley Wallgren (Red Sox).

Coaches attending will receive a 34-page manual covering everything projected at the clinic. Any coach wishing to attend the affair should write to Walter Mails at Seals Stadium.

TAYLOR PAY HIKED

CHUCK TAYLOR
Earns Pay Raise

Stanford football coach Charles A. (Chuck) Taylor, who lives at 242 Oak Grove avenue, Atherton, was voted "a substantial "increase in pay" by the Stanford Board of Athletic Control last week.

The raise, according to a source close to the board, jumped Taylor's salary from $12,000 to $15,000 per year.

Taylor will be starting his sixth season at Stanford next fall. He has four years remaining to go on a five year contract. The Indians won six, lost three and tied one game last season.

Menlo-Atherton Varsity Basketballers' Loss To Lincoln in Strange Game at San Jose

M-A's last 10 points. The Lions did not score a field goal in the last 6:35 but Alan Wright and Hosley combined for eight of nine free throws to save the lead.

In the first half the Lions missed 19 straight shots from the floor—failing to score a field goal for eight minutes—but again connected from the charity line and never lost their lead.

DeFeo topped the Bears in scoring with 18, including 10 of 11 free throws. Hoslty had 18 for Lincoln. Hilton was the standout performer, however, grabbing 17 rebounds and scoring 15 points.

Both teams received a standing ovation from the crowd after the final buzzer.

It took a stirring second half rally to give Menlo-Atherton a 45-39 victory over Palo Alto last Friday night and keep the Bears in contention for the SPAL title.

The Vikes got a fast jump and scored eight points before Hilton put M-A on the board four minutes into the first quarter. The Bears never came closer than three points in the first half and trailed 24-17 at the intermission.

A nine point burst at the outset of the third quarter was capped by McNitt's fielder to give the Bears their first lead 26-24 with 3:55 gone.

From then until midway in the fourth quarter the lead see-sawed. Three push shots by Hampton and a pair of follow-ups by Hilton moved M-A safely in front in the closing minutes.

Hilton, though battling a heavy cold, had 11 points and 13 rebounds for the Bears. Gary Schell cleared 11 rebounds for Palo Alto and Jeff Rowan scored 11 points.

Women Golfers Set Feb. 9 Meet Here

Menlo-Atherton Newcomers' golf section, rained out along with everybody else during recent weeks, has set 10 a.m. Feb. 9, from 10 a.m. to noon, as time for a "where do we go from here" discussion session at the John Crawford home, 1527 Laurel place in Menlo Park.

Interested prospective new members are invited to attend, as are all old regulars, according to Mrs. James O'Donoghue, chairman of the section. More information on the club and its functions can be had by calling Mrs. O'Donoghue at DA 2-3904.

San Francisco Fire Department Wins Menlo Park Cage Tourney

Two San Francisco teams Sunday evening battled toe-to-toe in the climax game of the Menlo Park recreation department's class I invitational basketball tourney, and when the smoke cleared away it was found that the San Francisco fire department had squeezed a championhip out of the meet by a one point margin.

Going down under the heavy guns of the firemen was UAW-CIO 560. Shooting was good all the way and the final score was 64-63.

Third place team at the end of the tournament, was Litton Industries of Redwood City. Oddstad homes, which plays in the city's own Industrial league, copped a fourth place.

The Pacific Service Empioyees association, which has rated as top team in Menlo Park's own league for the past two years, was pushed out early, since it faced the San Francisco smoke-eaters in one of its first games.

During the three weeks of league play, nobody got close to Bud Hjelm of Litton, insofar as scoring was concerned. He amassed 108 points in four games, being well ahead of anybody.

The firemen got into the final, championship round—and Litton went to the game to decide third and fourth places—when the two teams met earlier in the day. This game ended with a 56-53 score, with the firemen pulling up from behind, 33-26 at the half. Hjelm scored 33 points for the losers.

The UAW-CIO 560 got past Oddstad homes, 60-56, coming from behind in the last three minutes after low-scoring second and third quarters.

The Litton-Oddstad game was rated as the least exciting of the four played during the day. Decided by a 56-38 score, the issue was never in doubt.

Reporting the scores this week, Rec Dirtctor Stan Sexton said the city rec department was looking forward to next year, when a continuation of the same kind of play is expected.

"The tournament proved popular with the players as well as the public," Sexton observed, and several of them, including members of losing teams, said they were looking forward to next year

City Yo-Yo Meet Is Saturday As Little Theater

Pupils at Menlo Park schools were this week completing competition for selection of boy and girl "Yo-Yo Champs," in preparation for a citywide tournament to be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at Burgess park Little theater.

The fast-nearing tourney comes so close on the heels of contests at the schools, according to Playground Supervisor Mrs. Gayle Thompson, who is in charge of the affair, that winners at some of the participating schools cannot yet be named.

Competition is on at schools within the city limits of Menlo Park, as well as Encinal school.

During the past several weeks participants have been competing in skill in performing 10 basic tricks; these same tricks will be used in the final meeting Saturday.

Each school will have a boy and a girl champion in competition; the "all-city" champions will in turn be eligible for district contests and winners of these in turn, will be eligible for other meetings until a national champion can be declared.

Now's the Time for Placing New Flowering Fruit Trees in Garden

By TERRY LEE

No garden should be without a flowering fruit tree. This is the time to plant one, as they are bare root and inexpensive, and will flower this spring for you.

There are so many from which to choose I can only tell you about the ones I like best. Actually I have only a few of these trees as I enjoy the blossom on the fruit bearing trees almost as much, and love the dividend of the fruit.

A few of the flowering trees have tasty fruit, but this is an exception. When these trees are used for a display by a patio or lawn it is desirable to use a variety that has insignificant fruit so there will be no mess.

This is well illustrated in the plum family. The purple-leaf plum (prunus pissardii), has very light pink single flowers in February and purplish red foliage all summer which gives a handsome contrasting lift to a dark green background. In the fall it is laden with small, sweet, bronze plums.

The variey blireiana has double ping flowers and no fruit. A newer variety called Vesuvius has almost black foliage.

These trees should be pruned when in flower, a very nice advantage.

HANDSOME

The true fruitbearing plum trees are very handsome in this area, but do not have the purple leaves.

My favorite is the Santa Rosa plum, purple, with red meat, which is covered with light pink flowers in the spring, followed by as many plums.

This tree is pruned when it is dormant. It seems to be able to stand many situations other fruit trees cannot tolerate—extra water from the lawn, sprinklers hitting its trunk, no spraying and little pruning. The choice among these trees seems to be determined by which you think is most important—flowers, fruit or foliage.

The flowering crabapples are my favorite trees, and one can add to the above choices the factor of form. They are upright, vase shaped, spreading, weeping, large and small.

The variety Hopa is my favorite for it is upright with interlacing branches, has rose-red single fragrant flowers in April, and orange-red fruit which is excellent for jelly. Smaller, with long, drooping branches and pale pink flowers is Arnold's crab. The fruit is good for the birds and quite decorative. The largest flowers are on the Bechtel's crab—a double pink almost like a rose. It is magnificent but the flowers do hang on after they turn brown, something that never happens with a single flower.

The red flowered crabs usually have reddish leaves and red fruit. One of the nicest is purpurea lemoinei, a small tree with an open, delicate form.

FLOWERING TREES

There are wonderful flowering almonds, cherries and peaches, but they are not as handsome or easy to tend as the plums and crabs. Perhaps the peach is the most spectacular in bloom in this climate. But it must be sprayed for peach-leaf curl, and the flowering wood cut back to six-inch stubs after flowering. It needs good drainage, is a short-lived tree.

A lovely, small ornamental tree that is not planted enough is the Golden Chain tree (Laburnum vossi). Its foliage looks like large clover. The golden yellow flowers hang in long clusters like wisteria and cover the tree in late spring.

GARDEN CALENDAR WEEK OF FEB. 2

Berries and grapes are bare rooted now and well worth planting in the home garden. Seneca and Golden Muscat are two good grapes.

Hillview 7th Grade Chooses Ball Queen

"A Queen Shall Be Chosen!" So say the posters at Hillview school, announcing to seventh graders their upcoming "Queen of Hearts" ball, set for Feb. 10, 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

A "queen" and four maids of honor will be chosen by attending judges. As escorts for the brief royal "entourage," five boys will be chosen also. The queen and her escorts, dance co-chairmen Lynn Carlton and Roger Williams announce, will be selected for their dancing ability, poise and general graciousness of manner.

Hard at work with the aid of co-chairmen Williams and Carlton are committee chairmen: Carolyn Dennis, refreshments; David Nelson, tickets; Wendy Ford, decorations; Mary Ott, entertainment. Publicity secretary for the ball is Betsy Kennedy.

Plans call for "lavish" decorations.

After the choosing of the queen, her maids of honor, and their escorts, the five young couples will take the lead in dancing a special medley at one end of the ballroom, while the remaining "plebians" are confined to dancing at a farther section of the dance floor.

During this special medley, the queen alone shall have the right to tag, compelling her maids of honor to change partners with her at will.

Tomorrow and Friday the ladies of the Nativity Guild will hold their annual Rummage Sale. They promise the greatest array of bargains they have ever offered, and are encouraging shoppers to come early, as Nativity sales always draw a tremendous crowd. All of the proceeds from this sale will be used to augment the school building fund. Ground breaking for the new school is scheduled very soon and we encourage your support of this very worthwhile community project.

This is Number 1 in a series of advertisements presented in the community interest. Each week this space will carry news of a local activity that we believe deserves the support of each of us in building a better community. We cordially invite the publicity chairmen of local organizations to come in and discuss their coming events so that we may be sure to include them.

AT COUNTRY CLUB RECEPTION

Gerold Down offers wedding cake to his bride, the former Arden de Martini. —F. Ramsdell Cummings photo

Arden deMartini, Gerald Down United at Holy Trinity Church

Spring flowers — almond blossoms in the window boxes and at the chancel, white stock and tulips flanking the altar—bloomed Saturday at Holy Trinity Episcopal church for the marriage of Arden de Martini to Gerald Charles Down.

The blooms of spring were also used liberally to decorate Menlo Country club, where the bride and bridegroom received, by floral arrangements of Madonna lilies, some 350 guests.

Conducted by the Rev. Gardner Smith, Saturday's nuptials took place at 4 p.m.

SATIN AND LACE

The bride, escorted by her father, Albert Alfred de Martini of Atherton, was radiant in a Tami Henri original of white de-luste satin combined with Alencon lace. The bodice was styled with long sleeves and the bell-shaped skirt terminated in a chapel train.

Lilies of the valley formed the crown which clasped the bride's shoulder length illusion veil, and phalaenopsis orchids mixed with lilies of the valley and stephanotis made up the bridal bouquet.

Preceding the bride and her father were Shirley Arnott as maid of honor, Jean Lenzen, Mary Lou Coate, Molly Mock, Anne Baumgartner, Lynn Campbell and Claire Vallette, secondary attendants.

ATTENDANTS' FROCKS

Shirley's frock of deep red satin was contrasted in her bouquet of pink roses, while the bridesmaids set off their pink satin dresses with deep red roses. The ballerina gowns were similarly styled with empire waistlines and bouffant skirts.

The benedict, whose parents are the Godfrey Charles Downs of Piedmont, was flanked by his best man, John Gardner, and ushers William Oliver III, Donald Vollmar, Donald Anderson, Wint Mather, Peter Flemer and John Mortensen.

On the bride's side sat Mrs. de Martini in champagne colored silk with which she wore a small flowered hat. Mrs. Down's costume consisted of teal blue peau de soie and lace harmonized with a blue one-on-tone hat and matching accessories.

BRIDE'S TABLE

Madonna lilies were used to set off the bride's table, where the newlyweds made the traditional first cut in their cake, following which they prepared to leave for their "destination undisclosed" honeymoon.

As they were departing, the new matron was wearing a brown wool suit and a white spring hat; her corsage of phalaenopsis had been fashioned into the likeness of a bridal bouquet.

The couple will have as their temporary future home Lackland air base near San Antonio, Texas where the bridegroom is to be stationed.

Both Arden and her husband attended the University of California. The bride received her preparatory training at Castilleja and while attending UC was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. The benedict, an alumnus of Piedmont high school, was affiliated with Kappa Alpha fraternity, Winged Helmet and Triune honoraries.

QUEEN?

A LOVELY Athertonian, Mrs. Edward Scripps, is in the running for Queen of the Mardi Gras ball, annual benefit party sponsored by the Little Jim club, in San Francisco. Final voting for the affair takes place next Tuesday at the Palace, with the ball to follow on Shrove Tuesday, this year Valentine's day. —F Ramsdell Cummings

Schwieso-Ferrin Nuptials Held On Saturday

Hidden Villa ranch in Los Altos, home of the Frank Duvenecks, provided the setting Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Gretchen Schwieso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwieso of Menlo Park, to DeVere L. Ferrin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn S. Ferrin of Santa Cruz.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel, the newlyweds will set up housekeeping in Richmond, both to continue their classes at the University of California where Gretchen is majoring in criminology and her husband, in forestry.

Saturday's 3 p.m. nuptials were conducted by the Rev. Carroll Moon, a Methodist minister from Fresno, and an old family friend of the Schwiesos; Mrs. Moon, also was among the small number of guests at the wedding and at the reception which followed directly afterwards.

BRIDAL GOWN

The bride received felicitations in her full length white satin gown, princess styled with a high necked yoke, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt. As her "something borrowed," Gretchen wore a short heirloom lace veil and a matching cap made from it, given to her by a close friend, Mrs. Susan Richards. The "something old" was a handkerchief belonging to the bride's great-great grandmother.

The bride's bouquet, a surprise that day, was of white bouvardia centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. John Burnett of Berkeley served as sole attendant for the ceremony.

Her light blue crystalette frock styled with a long torso and ballerina skirt, was matched by a headpiece of tiny flowers and harmonized with a bouquet of pink carnations.

"De," as the bridegroom is called, had asked John Burnett to act as his best man, while ushers were Charles (Chuck) Schweiso Jr., a Menlo-Atherton senior, brother of the bride, and William Ferrin, one of De's two brothers. Dixon Ferrin is the other.

Seated at the piano was a family friend of the bride, Tony Menaglia.

THE MOTHERS

Mrs. Schweiso attended the nuptials in a navy blue taffeta dress with navy accessories, and Mrs. Ferrin had chosen light blue peau de soie with matching accompaniments. As corsages Mrs. Schweiso had pinned on white orchids and Mrs. Ferrin, pink carnations.

The room where the couple were married was decorated with greens on the mantle and white carnations, the latter repeated on the bride's table. After the cake-cutting traditions, the new matron left to put on her going-away outfit, a tangerine sweater and skirt accented with black accessories and a full length neutral coat.

Gretchen, after three years at Sequoia high school, spent her fourth year at Shimer college in Mount Carroll, Illinois, as a student in the Ford Foundation experimental group of high school students in college.

Her husband, a graduate of Santa Cruz high school, completed his military service with the army in Berlin.

Senior Auxiliary Names Officers

Members of the Senior auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home are already making their plans for the annual spring rummage sale, which is to be held this year over May 2 and 3; Mrs. A. F. Manspeaker heads the sale committee.

Officers for the auxiliary, who were elected last week, include Mrs. John Blackinger, chairman; Mrs. Hugh David Phillips, vice chairman; Mrs. William Kratt, second vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Lowell, recording secretary; Mrs William Pabst, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Polk Dodson, treasurer; Mrs. Manspeaker and Mrs Howard Frame, assistant treasurer.

Chairmen include Mrs. Phillips publicity, assisted by Mrs. J. E Hayes and Mrs. H. L. Severance Mrs. W. E. Jason, birthday club and Mrs. Jason with Mrs. Paul Manning, alternate director of the board of the Association of Auxiliaries, a group comprising the senior auxiliary and the junior auxiliaries of Woodside-Atherton, Palo Alto, San Francisco, Burlingame-San Mateo and San Jose.

IN MAGAZINE

Mrs. T. Adam Musto of Woodside is among the models depicted in the February issue of Town and Country magazine, which has done a layout on last November's highly successful Tour de Decors in San Francisco.

'Oriental Fanfare' A Pleasant Memory

For the capacity crowd of area teenagers attending Friday evening's Deep Peninsula Cotillion, "Oriental Fanfare" will long remain a pleasant memory; the gay place cards, Japanese fan favors for the girls and Samuri sword letter openers for the boys will evoke thoughts of this second dinner dance of the season.

Held in Fellowship hall of the First Methodist church of Palo Alto, the party was fashioned after the traditions of the Orient. A bright Torii gate, with its lantern-festooned bamboo on either side, provided the archway for formally gowned young ladies and their escorts to proceed to the receiving line.

Other decor featured Shoji screens, delicately lighted and silhoutted bamboo branches; ceremonial robes, Mandarin coats and obis hung out from the high windows much as one sees the Chinese wash waving over the streets of Kow Loon.

VIVID COLORS

Party guests will also recall the diagonal pattern of vivid colors played against one wall by an arrangement of fans, parasols and lanterns connected by more bamboo poles, from which were hung silken Oriental tapestries and richly feathered coolie like hats from Borneo with their gold and silver embroidered chieftain's scarfs to match.

Perhaps the pleasantest surprise during the whole evening, especially for the Cotillion directors, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Crisofi (Agnes Boone) were the spontaneous compliments which the orchestra leader paid the Cotillion members for both their good dancing and appropriate behavior.

Mrs. Richard T. Armstrong, senior Cotillion chairman, and Mrs. Clark L. Snyder, decorations chairman, were responsible for the charming atmosphere of the party. The chairmen were assisted by Mrs. Walter Beam, Mrs. Herbert Dougal, Mrs. Clarence Genasci Mrs. Leland B. Groezinger, Mrs Hans Koolen, Mrs. Donald P. Reinoehl and Mrs. Delbert Rey.

The third and final Deep Peninsula Cotillion of this season has been planned for March 16 at the same place.

FRIDAY NIGHT COMMENTATORS

HUSBAND AND WIFE TEAM—Taking part in tomorrow evening's fashion show at Rickey's will be the Burt C. Kendalls (above), who plan to share duties at the microphone. The duo will commentate styles, both feminine and masculine, to be modelled at 8 p.m. under the aegis of the Palo Alto auxiliary to the Crippled Children's society. Besides Mr. Kendall, other local men who will make their modelling debut are Dr. Russell V. Lee, Dr. Edward Ashcraft and Rodney Carveth, whose wife heads the auxiliary. Admission is free to the public. —Recorder photo

St. Anthony's Clothing Sale Opens Today

Ah delirium, spring came to Menlo Park this week (we hope it's here today too), and with it, such feminine thoughts as frilly hats, cotton dresses, something besides skirts and sweaters!

Going along with this idea, St. Anthony's Women's club is sponsoring its first 1956 fundraiser, a next-to-new clothing sale today, tomorrow and Saturday at 1744 El Camino Real in Redwood City.

The sale will include more than 2000 articles of new and almost new men's, women's and children's apparel, donated by Mike Bussuto's Second Hand shop.

Doors will remain open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. the remaining two days. Proceeds will be used to swell the St. Anthony's building fund, according to Chairman Mrs. Antone Hernandez.

Assisting Mrs. Hernandez on the event are Mrs. Jack Owens, co-chairman, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Emilie Duggin, Mrs. Nike Sanderson and Miss Shirley Stevens, committeewomen.

This sale marks the first event of the year for the club's new officers, who were installed recently.

Taking over their 1956 posts were Mrs. Edwyn A. Horgan, president; Mrs. Agnes Gallowich, vice president; Mrs. Eileen Ward, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James B. Styles, recording secretary and Mrs. Leona Maybury, financial secretary.

THE VOTERS SERVICE of the League of Women Voters is currently seeking deputy registrars to serve during this election year. Anyone wishing to give a few hours time is urged to contact Mrs. Philip Levin, DA 2-6832.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

TWICE HONORED last week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glen of East Palo Alto, who were married on January 25, 1906, in Ottowa, Illinois. On Saturday evening, 20 well-wishers gathered at a friend's home to honor the Golden Anniversary celebrants with a dinner party. On the following day, more than 50 persons dropped by the Glens' son, John's, home on Bay road to watch the 50-year-weds cut their special three-tiered wedding cake baked and decorated by Mrs. John Glen's cousin, Mrs. Thelma Wise of San Jose. Also participating at the Sunday open house were the Charlie Glens' two grandsons, Billy, who turned 8 years on their anniversary, and Bobby, who will be 7 in June—on his parent's anniversary.

CAPACITY CROWDS ATTENDS FRIDAY COTILLION

Mrs. Grebmeier Honor Guest at Farewell Party

At a farewell party given Tuesday evening, members of the Encinal school staff bid a sad goodbye to one of their very favorite co-workers and friends, office clerk Mrs. Georgia Grebmeier.

Mrs. Grebmeier, who has been with Encinal for seven years, had been led to believe Tuesday's dinner was an intimate one; she was expected to be surprised at the turnout of all faculty and office personnel.

Mrs. Grebmeier, upon her official retirement February 1, will take up a new residence in Los Angeles, where she has purchased a small apartment house in order to be near her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Holtier.

Beloved alike by the staff, children and parents of Encinal, the retiring office clerk has lived in Menlo Park for many years, taking an active part in Presbyterian church work, school affairs and community life.

Of her loss at Encinal, Mrs. Ina Porter, principal, has said, "She is one of the most wonderful employees we have in the school district. Her retirement will be like losing a right hand here."

Aside from serving as office clerk, Mrs. Grebmeier has operated the library at Encinal, becoming friends with all the children there, and has also served as friend, advisor and telephone companion to parents since her arrival during September of Encinal's first year.

PLANS for the February 7 dessert-card party sponsored by the College of San Mateo Patrons association are well under way; all interested persons are invited to make individual or foursome reservations with Mrs. E. Eugene Umland, 1515 Arc way, Burlingame. The event will be held at 1 p.m. in the San Mateo YMCA building.

John A. Spencer Takes Bride At Sunday Ceremony in City

Fans of white stock flanked the altar of the Ocean Avenue Presbyterian church in San Francicco Sunday afternoon as John A. Spencer of Menlo Park claimed Joanne Evalen Lippert of the City as his bride.

Joanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Louis Lippert, was preceded down the aisle by a trio of attendants, Joan Toguchi of Hawaii as maid of honor, Linda Hammond of San Bruno and Annette Turman of San Francisco, the bridegroom's niece, bridesmaids.

For the occasion, the honor maid had donned a full length frock of pink nylon net, the strapless bodice covered with a matching jacket; her headpiece was a bandeau of turquoise interwoven with matching flowers. The two secondary attendants wore similar frocks of turquoise with pink headbands.

PINK ROSES

All three carried bouquets of pink roses.

The bride, escorted by her father, had chosen a full length white satin wedding gown combined with nylon tulle, the fitted satin bodice fashioned with an Elizabethan neckline and long sleeves, the full, full skirt of tulle over satin.

A crown of seed pearls clasped the waist-length illusion veil, and completing the costume was a bouquet of white bouvardia centered with an orchid.

Thee lifelong friends of the bridegroom, whose parents are the Joseph W. Spencers of San Francisco, served as best man and ushers. Samuel Lillis held the ring for the benedict, while John and Paul Anderson, brothers, escorted some 300 wedding guests to their seats.

RECEPTION

Following the 2 p.m. ceremony conducted by the Rev. Arthur Willis, a small number of close friends and family members were invited to a reception at the Forest lodge on Laguna Honda.

Before the newlyweds left for their honeymoon destination in Carmel, the bride changed into a tailored navy blue suit and black accessories. Upon their return, the Spencers will take up residence in Menlo Park.

Both Joanne and John attended Balboa high school in the City, but at different times, and each continued studies at San Francisco State college, the bridegroom after service with the army in Korea.

The new matron plans to enroll at San Jose State college after they establish their home here; John is a member of the Menlo Park police department.

A PRINCESS

BABARA MEAGHER, Menlo Park coed at Seattle university, has been chosen to serve as a princess on the school's 1956 Homecoming court, which will start its reigning term on Saturday. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meagher of Magnolia street, the princess was graduated last year from the Convent of the Sacred Heart, San Francisco, and is currently majoring in secretarial science; she was named to the royal court by members of her class in a recent election.

Bobbi Mills To Be Wed February 12

February 12 is the date chosen by Barbara Louise (Bobbi) Mills of College avenue and Gary Nardi for their marriage at the Menlo Park Presbyterian church.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer L. Mills, has asked her lifelong friend, Mrs. Edward Lattimore (Patsy Henderson) to serve in the role of honor matron. Bridesmaids will be Patsy's sister, Mrs. Francis Moore (Adele Henderson), and a Sigma Kappa sorority sister from UC, Mrs. Robert Griffith (Dione Christensen).

Son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nardi of Santa Rosa, the prospective benedict will have in his party William MacGregor, best man, David Ramsey and Harry Stearn, ushers, Arthur Mills, Bobbi's younger brother, and his friend, Walter Bamman, junior ushers.

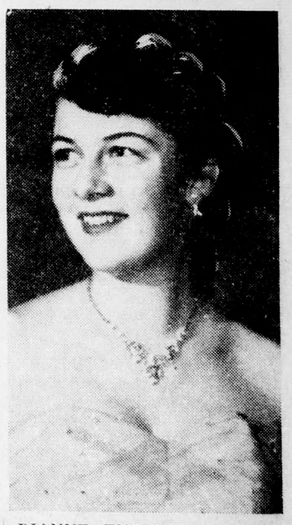

A round of pre-nuptial parities has kept the bride-elect very busy of late. On January 15, Mrs. Griffith entertained at a bridal shower in her San Francisco home, using pink and white as the decoration motif, two large entwined hearts, the focal points. Guests were Sigma Kappa sisters.

Last weekend included two surprise gatherings for Bobbi, one given on Friday evening by her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Mills of Redwood City, and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Porter. On Saturday night, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Lattimore, joined forces to host cocktails and a shower, using pink and green decor to convert Mrs. William Henderson's Redwood City home into a party setting.

The bride-elect climaxed the week by feting her bridesmaids and their mothers with a Sunday luncheon at her parents' home; Mrs. Nardi came down from Santa Rosa to assist. An added surprise during the weekend was Gary's early and unexpected arrival from his present air force post at Ellington AFB in Texas.

AAUW BOARD members will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday with Mrs. N. M. McFadden, 445 Cotton street.

DIANNE ENDRIGO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Endrigo, was installed last Saturday evening as worthy advisor for the Menlo Park assembly 151, Order of the Rainbow for Girls. Dianne's installation marks the seventh such ceremony since the founding of the local assembly. —Wolfe photo

DANCE FOR JUNIOR LEAGUERS

RFD Thursday:

A Trio of Festivities Enlivens Local Scene

Mrs. Frank Ingersoll was hostess last week to a group of friends including several San Franciscans, as well as neighbors in Woodside.

The hostess' home was formerly the weekend and summer residence of Dr. and Mrs. Alan Weeks, whose daughter, Mrs. Carl Harkness (Leone Weeks) is now making her home in Hillsborough.

Mrs. Ingersoll and her husband the late Judge Ingersoll, are from the Philippines and at the time of the war, Mrs. Ingersoll moved to her present location, which was remodeled by Harvey Parke Clark into a stunning two-story contemporary.

The house, filled with many museum pieces collected by its chatelaine during her stay in Manila, is located on a knoll and approached by a semi-circular driveway from Kings Mountain road. It adjoins the former Marshall Dill residence and the new Gallagher house, as well as the Mortimer Fleishhacker estate.

An active member of the Woodside-Atherton Garden club, Mrs. Ingersoll has authored many articles about her favorite hobby, gardening, and also about her life in the Philippine islands.

Among the party guests at her home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cecil, formerly of the Philippines and now, with their four children, residents of San Francisco. Also attending from the City were Mrs. Edward Earl Brownell and the William Frenches.

From this area came Mrs. Hubert Law and Mr. and Mrs. William Alston Hayne, who had just returned from a short trip to the Napa Valley where they have a home in St. Helena. The Dent Macdonoughs, Oliver Dibbles Jr., Colonel and Mrs. Ralph Miller, who are newly arrived and living in Woodside, and the Warrington Dorsts all represented the country contingent.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Olsen, who are presently residing in a newly-built home on Josselyn road, were also among guests—she, incidentally, is the daughter of the late Mrs. Walter Felix.

Mrs. Francis Crosby was on hand with two out-of-town guests, and present, too, was Mrs. Eli Wiel of Atherton.

* * *

And, on the same evening, a host of guests had been invited to the Lawrence Steinhardts' — among them, the Richard Elkus' and Eugene S. Elkus', Alan Chickerings Jr. and Mrs. Alexander Donald, whose husband is East on a business trip and who was making plans for a snow trip to Sugar Bowl with her son, Peter.

The John Brookes Jr., immediate neighbors of the Steinhardts were talking about the coming wedding of their son, Bob, to Barbara Register. Also enjoying the hospitality were the Alexander Eisenbergs, who had just received a letter from their daughter, Roxanna, now enrolled at school in Boston.

* * *

One of the gayest and happiest weddings this season was Saturday's exchange of vows between Arden de Martini and Gerald Charles Down, followed by a reception for more than 400 at the Menlo Country club.

And, of course, among conversation topics was the sudden blaze of sunshine, welcomed by well-wishers who queued outside for hours in the receiving line.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Jason, she wearing full length mink and a black satin ribbon hat, beguiling listeners with the tale of their earthquake experience in Acapulco, where they spent the New Year. The Gordon Jasons, also there, were still being congratulated on their "fantabulous" party at the Circus club.

The Leland Groezingers were chatting with Mrs. Rod McLellan and Mrs. Dexter White, Mrs. McLellan pert in one of those new "bucket" hats . . . also wearing the new look in headgear was Mrs. George Dixon Clark.

In another group were the Elton Tognazzinis, Mrs. Tognazzini a picture in her dark dress iced with a sequined rose yoke and matched with a rose satin hat . . . a family picture was created by Mr. and Mrs. Baltzer Peterson attending with her son-in-law and daughter, who are soon to be in the market for cradles, the John Roberts III.

Chatting together in another group were the Leland Roseners Jr. and Mrs. Henry Kuechler Jr. The Harold Davis', just returned from a short trip to Santa Barbara in search of the sun, were also on hand, as was bride-to-be Cynthia Cornish with her grandmother, Mrs. Edwin deGolia, and her mother, Mrs. George C. Stevens, up from Beverly Hills with her husband.

And present, too, were the L. Chace Grovers, she excited about her exhibition of paintings, which will be set up at the Carl Thorp Art Center in San Francisco. Next Wednesday, Mrs. Grover is planning a preview which many from this area will attend.

This is to be the local artist's first "one-man" show—after only a year of painting. Comments of her work have revealed that her positive approach of knowing what she wanted to say on canvas carried her over the difficulties of learning art techniques.

Her early childhood and nostalgic memories of Mobile and other spots are expressed in the colorful interpretations of the Deep South.

As the bride started up the stairs to the second floor of the Menlo Country club, she poised long enough to toss her lovely bouquet, which was caught by Sally Hexom.

AAUW Group Still on Africa

Continuing their exploration of Africa, members of the AAUW book section will meet at 12:30 p.m. Monday to hear Mrs. John Shedd review parts of three books, "Tree of Culture" by Ralph Linton, "Story of Man" by Carlton Coon and "Conquest of Man" by Paul Herman.

The presentation will trace through anthropology and history the development of man on the "dark continent."

Assisting the hostess, Mrs. Rudolph Severin, 93 Broadacres road, will be Mrs. Willis Johnston, Mrs. I. A. Pierce, Mrs. R. R. Renshaw and Mrs. Ross Wilson. Mrs. George Falkenthal is scheduled to give an additional review of a recent book.

Set Workshops

Two workshop meetings and a board session are scheduled this coming week for members of the League of Women Voters of Menlo Park.

The workshop on California schools will take place at 1 p.m. Monday at 2108 Monterey avenue, while the "Know Your County Government" workshop featuring Pat Merrick, special consultant with the county manager's office, is timed for 12:30 p.m. Wednesday at 125 Glenwood avenue.

Board members will gather at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, February 9, at 44 Marymont avenue.

Stewart-Voelker Vows;

Rings Exchanged In January 21 Ceremony

January 21 will always be an important date in the life of newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Bernherd J. Voelker, Jr., for that is their wedding day.

A 2:30 p.m. exchange of vows between the former Patricia Ruth Stewart and her fiance took place a week ago Saturday at the First Baptist church in South Palo Alto, with the Rev. David Silke officiating.

The strains of "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer" sung by Mr. Silke were a prelude to the double-ring candlelight ceremony.

SOLE ATTENDANT

Judith Hartley, of Oxnard, a cousin of the bride, was honor maid and sole attendant.

She preceded the bride to the altar wearing a blue nylon lace ballerina dress with scooped neckline, bouffant skirt and a tiny bolero jacket concealing the short sleeves of the fitted bodice. She wore pink roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink camellias trimmed with a huge blue satin bow and streamers.

On the arm of her father, Thomas E. Stewart of 11 Camellia court, Palo Alto Gardens, the pretty bride wore a white nylon lace wedding gown fashioned with a high neckline and tiny collar, fitted bodice, long sleeves and a full skirt highlighted by a long satin train overlaid with nylon net.

JULIET CAP

Her lace juliet cap was trimmed with waxed orange blossoms and held the finger-tip veil in place. Whit eorchids and stephanotis formed her bouquet.

Waiting at the altar with the bridegroom was a navy friend from San Diego, Oscar Peralta who served as best man. Patricia's brother, Michael, and Thomas Schriver, ushers.

Both mothers chose blue for the wedding. Mrs. Stewart's gown was of blue taffeta and she wore blue accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. Mrs. Bernherd J. Voelker Sr., of Redwood City, selected a two-piece royal blue outfit with black accessories and a rose corsage.

CHURCH RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. Among the guests were the bride's aunt and cousin, Mrs. William Andrew Hartley and Mrs. Douglas Horton, who came from Oxnard for the event.

The new Mrs. Voelker left on her honeymoon to Carmel garbed in a pink knit suit, black coat and accessories and a white satin hat. She wore a white orchid corsage.

The young couple are now at home in an apartment on Cooley avenue in East Palo Alto. The bride has returned to her work at the Cocoa Cola company in Palo Alto. The bridegroom works for Safeway stores in San Francisco.

Scout Uniform:

EXCHANGE

Mothers of Girl Scouts and Brownies, if your daughters' uniforms have reached the point where no hem exists to be let out and the waist line is some two or three inches above where it should be, Mrs. Gordon Gibb has a suggestion.

As chairman of the Uniform Exchange for the Menlo-Atherton Girl Scout district, Mrs. Gibb announces that she is badly in need of both dresses and accessories. The fall re-opening of troop activities took quite a toll on her summer supply of uniforms, which were channelled to girls who otherwise might not have the official Scout dress.

Mrs. Gibb, who founded the Exchange a little more than a year ago, may be reached at DA 2-1150.

Plans Afoot For March 2-19 Cookie Sale

Girl Scouts throughout the bay area—some 50,000 of them—are making plans now for their eleventh annual cookie sale, which will be held this year from Friday, March 2, through Monday, March 19, or longer in some communities.

The sale, to be held in the Menlo-Atherton area under the supervision of Mrs. Raymond Peters, cookie chairman, is conducted yearly to supplement current operating funds received from the United Crusade and to earn additional money to guarantee the camping program and troop activities.

Girl Scout leaders, troop members and parents will combine forces to see that everyone has a chance to purchase the familiar cookies — plain shortbread or chocolate and vanilla filled — as well as a new kind this year, lemon thin wafers.

Wrappings for 1956 will feature the brown color and design for Brownies.

The cookies are to be displayed at grocery stores and may be served at clubs, hospitals, restaurants and fountains along with ice cream. Buyers may also find booths set up in such places as railboard stations, downtown buildings and playgrounds; all are urged to buy the goodies in order to help the Girl Scouting movement in the community.

Ballet Guild

Adding still another event to their 1956 calendar, members of the Peninsula branch of the San Francisco Ballet guild, headed this year by Mrs. Hugh David Phillips of Atherton, will travel up to the city February 10 for luncheon at the Cliff House.

This month's affair will follow the regular 10 a.m. board meeting, with officers planning to meet the other members at the luncheon site, all to go on from there to visit the new ballet school to watch practice and view rehearsal for a new ballet.

Church Musical

Liturgical music is out for the present, as far as the St. Francis of Assisi church choir is concerned; instead, the group is now in the midst of rehearsals for a modern musical, "Footlight Fantasy," which will be presented in the church hall February 10 and 11.

Jerry Lynch, who normally directs the choir, has taken over guidance of the musical, proceeds from which will benefit the church building fund. Tickets for the show may be purchased from any choir members or reserved by calling Mrs. James Cahill, DA 5-3672.

New Sections

Members of the Menlo-Atherton branch AAUW who are interested in joining a study group on antiques or one on the problems of adolescents, either this year or next, are asked to call Mrs. Harold Benedict, chairman of committees, at DA 2-2514.

Also contemplated is a balloon dancing group for couples. Further information on this may be had by telephoning the creative arts chairman, Mrs. James Monfort, at DA 5-2804.

MRS. Ross Wilson will host the AAUW duplicate bridge group next Thursday.

MEMBERS of AAUW evening bridge II will gather at Miss Joan Volz' home next Wednesday.

Stanford Professor To Show Film on Whaling Today at Little House

Dramatic motion pictures of Eskimo whaling at Point Barrow will be shown at 2:15 p.m. today by Dr. Ira L. Wiggins, director of the Natural History museum and professor of biology at Stanford university.

The film, made by the speaker when he and his wife stayed in Alaska, will also depict the celebrations following the whaling operations. During his three-year sojourn in the north country, Professor Wiggins served as scientific director of the Arctic Research Laboratory started by the United States navy.

* * *

The regular general business meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. tomorrow; all members are urged to attend. A choral group is to be organized at 7:15 p.m. this evening, with Miss Bernice Remde of Menlo Park, leader.

Other additions to the Little House calendar are the new ceramics class, launched last night, and a class in millinery to open at 10 a.m. this morning under the instruction of Mrs. Lawrence T. Shaw.

Registrations are also being taken for the new drama group, which will convene for the first time at 2 p.m. next Saturday, February 11. Mrs. Anna Deane Matthews of Palo Alto is leader of the group.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Jo Booth DA 3-1909

Happy groundhog Day to all! You've probably forgotten, but if the ground hog doesn't see his shadow, he'll go back into his burrow for another six weeks.

Not so with the people who give parties — shadow or no shadow, winter or spring, they'll still be having guests over—like Nancy McDowell, the Gullicon Twins, Deanna Stone and many more we'll mention! (What a sneaky way to lead into a column!)

The luau drew most of the big shindigs, and before it you might have heard of these parties:

A dinner hosted by Judy Patterson! To her guests, Dave Hall, Cathy, Davis, Dave Morley, Jill Rudlick and Gord Plaisted, she offered a delicious meal of fried chicken, pizza, spaghetti and dessert.

Ray Blouin, Jim Sherman and Charley Dahl dined well that night, too, on a dinner concocted by Barbara Dickman, Sue Steiner and Sheri Adams! The gals offered the guys roast beef, mashed potatoes and cake, and were delighted to find the food quickly disappear.

After-the-loo-ow (we spells 'em as we hears 'em) accounted for many gatherings, too!

One of the local pizzerias was invaded, and among the thousands there were Andy Schwarz, Yvonne Layne, Greig Gowdy, Barbara de Angeles, Stew Morton, Faye Johnson, Garth Stevick, Rhoda Maxfield, Steve Cobra, Carol Blake, Jerry Terhune, Carol Stickney, Paul Clarkson, Sheila Gray, Fred Stark, Diane Ackerman, Gary Bolton, Marge Hirsch, Chuck Holland, Sally Flanagan, Lance Fuller, Carolyn Duniway, Jim Reinhardt. Carolyn Welz, Gord Plaisted, Jill Kudlick, Dave Hall, Judy Patterson, Bud Varty, B. J. Russell, Bill Bull, Mike Teilemans, Gerrie Keely, Karl Jensen, Pat Reynolds, Connie Kent, Larry Irwin, Sharon Anderson, Jim Angelo, Nancy McDowell, Dennis Brown, Darcy Metcalf, Ralph McIntyre, Bev Crofts, Don Day and Carol Shannon.

Linda Adams was the hostess for several friends at a slumber party after the afore-mentioned dance! Television, eating and talking provided all the entertainment necessary, and kept the girls up till about 3:30. They made up for it, though, and slept till 11:30! Present were Linda Crawford, Linda Matson and Dotty Grove.

Deanna Stone didn't spare the horses either when she had nine gals over to spend the night.

The luau was the main topic of conversation, but they found time to sandwich in eats and sleep—the latter about 5 a.m.

Bright and shiny after only three hours of slumber, they dove into breakfast willingly. There were Jill Kudlick, Sue Estberg, Kathy Farnsworth, Barbara Dufresne, Laddie Gock, Linda Turner, Joan Wickstrom, Kathy Long and Judy Chapin.

The countryside around Nancy McDowell's home took on a decidedly gayer air when she had some friends over to spend the night, too! After a small street dance, the gals climbed into their sleeping bags and had a good round o talk and food.

Before getting to sleep at 5:30, they celebrated six birthdays with one huge cake—the gals so honored including Rhoda Maxfield, Marge Hirsch, Donna Newport, Gerrie Keely, Joan Burgard and Ellen Menzin (the last two with them in spirit if not in the flesh).

Other merrymakers on the list were Faye Johnson, Barbara de Angeles, Martha Wright, Cris Cochrane, Carol Blake, Pat Kelly, Robin Nichols, Peggy Moody, Diane Sullivan, Ginny Levensaler, Linda Price and Marty Weiss.

Speaking of birthdays, two girls —Roberta Gard and Barbara Stellman—had them on the same day, and both were given a surprise cake in the very same way—at a restaurant!

As Roberta's well-wishers, we have Norma Bennett, Lillian Cabiness and Beverly and Judy Salmons. In on Barbara's celebration were Carolyn Gerbo, Diane Sullivan, Carol Tait, Sue Baughn, Cheila Gray, Barbara Beise, Claire Williams, Jan Oliva and Bunny Blake.

* * *

A newly formed youth group from the Nativity Catholic church is already getting underway with many fun filled plans, one of which took the place the other night.

Trouping down to a roller rink, they all went skating. There from M-A you might have seen Carol Burke, Sue White, Jackie Gerbo, Jerry Berger, Liz Yarborough, Mary Steinmetz and Sue Silva.

* * *

Ever had friends drop in on you in what seems like the middle of the night (actually only 8:30 a.m.), drag you out of your nice warm bed, and take you to say "Happy Birthday" to an equally sleepy friends?

Well, ask either Sue White, Sut Chase, Bev Baker, Carol Lofgren, Carol Keller, Arline Cottrell, Kathy Farnsworth, Bunny Gruner, Fran Feiten or Gail Davis—they were the ones dragged out of bed!

By whom? By Pat Hedge, who planned the whole thing, and Sue Barron. And who was the birthday girls? Sarita Steinberg. And were they happy as they sat down to pancakes and orange juice? Well, mostly—and pretty sleepy too!

* * *

After the Winter Concert, an extremely spur-of-the-moment party was thrown, at the home of Pat and Liz Gullison! Just there, dancing, eating and generally having a good time were Mike Callahan, Mike Tielemans, Dennis Brown, Carol Hammon and Sue Hall.

At the same pizzeria we mentioned a little while ago, a big group convened after the basketball game, including Nancy McDowell, Jim Woodcock, Bud Varty, Steve Cobra, Jim Reinhardt, Lance Fuller, Dennis Brown, Mike Tielemans, Al Sundquist, Rhoda Maxfield, Pat Kelly, Sue Erstrom, Andy Schwarz, Yvonne Layne, Chuck Holland, Sally Flanagan, Debbie Wallace, Betsy Kimball and Faye Johnson, among many.

* * *

Well, we've already listed a kidnap breakfast—this time it's a kidnap dinner! Being taken "for the ride" were Carolyn Gerbo and Barbara Stellman—their captors included Diane Sullivan (the engineer of the deal), Sue Baughn, Janet Phillips, Gayle Wallace, Bunny Blake, Carol Tait, Barbara Schenkel and Donna Newport—and the dinner—a very filling one of pizza!

* * *

Two eggs were sitting in a monastery. What did one egg say to the other? "Here we go—out of the frying pan, into the friar."

OFFICERS of the Menlo Park Always Budget Calories club appeared last Friday on Evangeline Baker's TV program, Shoppers' Matinee.

Tour of Sequoia Chapter House Tops February Menerton Docket

Sequoia Red Cross chapter house, 3540 Middlefield road, will be the site for Monday's regular meeting of the Menertons. A 12:30 p.m. luncheon served by the Canteen will be followed by a tour of the chapter house and a number of short talks on Red Cross work here.

Mrs. Eleanor Dodson, chairman of volunteers, is to introduce the speakers, including Mrs. Margaret Bermejo, executive director, who will talk on chapter organization; Mrs. Westman, chairman of the motor service, who will tell of her branch.

Also speaking will be Mrs. Marcella Jennings, chairman of Gray Ladies; Mrs. Veldee, chairman of staff aids; Mrs. Harriet Malone, director of home service; Dick West, chairman of the fund drive and Mrs. Pat Homfeld, to discuss — firsthand — the recent floods.

DISPLAYS

Displays from the sewing department and of Junior Red Cross work in public schools will be set up.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by calling Mrs. Guy Sperry at EM 6-3496. Women who have been members in good standing for two years in the Menlo-Atherton Necomers club are eligible to join the Menertons.

* * *

Second event of the month for the group falls on Tuesday, the 14th, Valentine's Day, when the canasta section gathers at 12:30 p.m. at Mrs. S. H. Steen's home, 1154 Werth avenue. Reservations may be made by calling DA 5-3961.

The following Thursday, February 16, Mrs. Jack S. Davis, 320 Laurel avenue, assisted by Miss Ruth Leon, will act as hostess to the evening bridge group. Members planning to attend the 8 p.m. session are asked to call DA 5-7701.

GREEN THUMBERS

Green thumbers in the garden section will meet behind Miner's Bakery at 11 a.m. sharp on Tuesday, February 21, for luncheon at the Carriage House in Millbrae and on to McLellan Orchid Gardens for a conducted tour. For reservations, call DA 5-4141.

At 8 p.m. Friday, February 24, the Mr. and Mrs. bridge group will convene at the 320 Laurel street home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Davis. The David Hartupees and R. E. Knechts are assisting the host and hostesses. Signups for the party are being taken at DA 5-7001.

Last meeting of the month is the afternoon bridge group, which gathers at 12:30 p.m. with hostess Mrs. Kenneth Varco, 245 Oak Grove avenue. Mrs. John Austin is aide de camp for the afternoon. Reservations for this section may be made by calling DA 5-7905.

LWV:

VOTERS' SERVICE

From Monday, February 6, through February 16 voters registration will be given from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each day at the Bank of America by members of the League of Women Voters of Menlo Park.

Mrs. Philip Levin, voters service chairman for the local league, notes that February 16 is the last day to register for those who wish to vote in the Menlo Park municipal elections set for April.

Mrs. Edward Golden and Mrs. Karl Peterson, deputy registrars, will be at the bank to help Menlo voters; for other registration service available, see the news section of the Recorder.

Green Oaks PTA To Hear About 'Fast Learners'

Once more parents in the Ravenswood school district will be given "first hand" information on the new fast learner program, for Dr. Arthur Coladarci, consultant for the program, will speak before members of Green Oaks PTA on "The Accelerated Program."

The meeting, which will be held in Green Oaks multi-purpose room will start at 8 p.m. on February 7. Preceding the program will be a short business meeting, which will include the awarding of a Life Membership to someone who has done outstanding work with school children.

Entertainment will be provided by folk dancers from Mrs. Rudy Gautschi's eighth grade including Lyndel Rowen, Garry Fosnaugh, Mike Anderson, Paul Dallas, Bob Lawson, Pat Brostrom, Earl Johnson, Ted Thirionet, Gary Walton, Carol Travers, Cassy Borgia, Janice Burkett, Eileen Loughran, Darlene Gabrielson, Nona Borg, Paula Thayer, Lillian Morales and Barbara Morgan.

Mrs. Hans Albertson and Mrs. John Tibbs, room mothers for Miss Anne Smith and Roy Marks classes will be hostesses for the evening. Mrs. Thomas Mullen is in charge of program.

New Center For 'Seniors'

Another center for senior citizens will make its advent on the peninsula, according to an announcement by the Assistance League of San Mateo county, sponsors of the facility.

To hold its first meeting on Sunday, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Burlingame Recreation center, the new "over 50" group will choose a name, officers, committees and program for itself.

In addition to 10 members of the Assistance league (a group including several localites), the Director of Recreation for the Burlingame center and the Volunteer Bureau of San Mateo county are working in cooperation on the project.

For Teachers

The first Evening of Recollection planned for all interested peninsula teachers this year will be held next Wednesday at the College of Notre Dame in Belmont.

A lecture on "Social Problems Involved in Education" given by the Rev. Joseph D. Munier, Ph.D., archdiocesan director of the Lay Apostolate and professor of industrial ethics at St. Patrick's college, will start the program at 4:30 p.m. in St. Mary's hall.

"BORROWING MONEY"

Ben Winkleman, Palo Alto real estate loan broker, will discuss "Borrowing Money" Wednesday at 8 p.m. when the AAUW status of women section meets at the home of Mrs. W. M. Underwood, 1241 Cotton street.

Doll Display

Mrs. William P. Wreden of Menlo Park, secretary of the San Francisco Doll club of the United Federation of Doll clubs, Inc., has a lovely large walking doll with wooden body and a 19th century chest of drawers in the permanent display at Sutro Museum by the beach.

On Febraury 11 and 12 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., the Doll club is putting into action a special exhibit of musical mechanical dolls and toys. This display will also be housed in the 9 by 40 foot space of Sutro Museum given to the club by George K. Whitney, owner.

Miss Imholt

Lieutenant and Mrs. William Imholt (Carol Blackmore) became parents of their second child, a baby girl, on Friday, January 13. The infant, to be named Catherine Amanda, made her appearance on the birthday of her grandfather, William B. Imholt of Atherton.

William B. Imholt III is the brother of the new child; all reside in Alexandria, Virginia, where the father is stationed.

AT CARD PARTY YESTERDAY

THANKS TO MENLO MERCHANTS—Newcomer club members were entertained yesterday at the Los Altos Country club on the occasion of their annual card party, prizes for which were donated by our local businessmen. In on the planning were (left to right) Mrs. Kenneth A. Bong, evening bridge chairman; Mrs. Coleman Levensaler, sponsor and honorary president of the Newcomers club and Mrs. Allen E. Kayser, afternoon bridge chairman.

Europe-Bound Phillips' Caught In Round of Bon Voyage Parties

By PROXY

Friends from Singapore, the Frederick Jacksons, will occupy the Atherton hilltop home of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh David Phillips, when the popular local couple depart February 27 for their five-months tour of Europe. Leaving by plane for New York, the Phillips' will embark the 28th aboard the "Independence," sailing to Cannes, then driving from there through Italy. Their travels by car will include Sicily, then up to the Italian lake country and Switzerland. Mid-June has been set as homecoming time.

Among parties being given for the prospective travelers were last night's dinner in San Mateo, hosted by the Turners, another dinner party coming up Saturday, to be given at the Selby lane home of the Robert Clarkes and next Saturday's cocktail soiree at the Sidney Lees' residence, timed to precede the Menlo Country club's annual Winter Formal.

* * * *

Another map-following localite is Mrs. Dorothea W. Smith, who boarded the Stella Polaris last Tuesday for its 22-day Caribbean cruise. Comprising the itinerary are ports-of-call Havana; Port-au-Prince, Haiti; St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; Dutch Curacao; Kingston, British Jamaica; La Guaira for Caracas, Venezuela; Leeward Islands; Martinique and the Windward Islands.

* * * *

Because they were so busy during the Holidays helping other localites with their greeting cards, the Elmo Haydens have surprised friends this week with a somewhat belated, but never the less welcome, "Christmas card" of their own.

The Hayden menage, all posed with cameras (it's their business) is telling us, "Though our greetings are in arrears . . . None the less are full of cheer . . . Hope you had a 'snappy' Yule . . . And have a flashy' year."

Justweds in 'Vegas

Planning their future home in Los Altos are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Charles Katcher (Helene Buckingham) who were married last Thursday afternoon in the Palo Alto courthouse by Judge Paul Meyer.

For the ceremony, attended only by the family, the bride had selected an aquamarine blue sheath with a matching duster, with which she wore brown accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Attending the bride was Marge O'Brien of Los Altos, at whose restaurant the reception was held afterwards. Leslie Boatwright of Palo Alto served as best man for the bridegroom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Palmer of Fremont street, long-time residents of Menlo Park; she is the sister of Bill and Marvin Palmer. Following her graduation from Sequoia high school, Helene enrolled at Reedsport college in Oregon.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Katcher of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the late Mr. Katcher, attended schools back East and is a veteran of the air corps. At the present time, he is owner of an advertising service in the Town and Country Village.

The justweds planned to travel south to Las Vegas for their honeymoon, returning for a temporary residence at the Holiday Inn in Mountain View.

Attend Retreat

Some 46 members of the Catholic Daughters of America, throughout the Archdiocese of San Francisco, were present at a retreat held last weekend at Vallombrosa. Three members of Court Holy Rosary, CDA, attending were Mrs. James Silvester, Mrs. John Conte and Mrs. Larry Costa.

Next meeting for the local court will be held at 8 p.m. February 13 in the yellow room of the civic center. Last Monday's social, held for prospective members, was deemed a success thanks to the efforts of the committee comprising Mrs. John Heaphy, Mrs. Costa, Mrs. Ed Dolan and Mrs. Edwin Gross.

Brownies Elect New Officers

Troop 333 held their annual election of officers and elected Joan Sirl president, Sharon Carver, vice president, Yvonne Johnson, secretary, Mary Revheim, treasurer and Janet Beale, phone chairman.

Other troop members are: Marthine Berry, Camille Casale, Gay Jean King, and Ruth Ann Hunter.

The girls are making posters for Girl Scout Week and are planning a hike. A play entitled "Help for Santa" was presented by the girls for their mothers at their Christmas party.

Leader for the troop is Mrs. Jack Carver and co-leader is Mrs. J. Sirl.

BROWNIE TROOP 137 VISITS RECORDER

Ten members of Brownie Scout Troop 137 last Thursday visited the Menlo Park Recorder. They were accompanied by Mrs. James R. Lee and Mrs. J. J. Voye.

Girls who toured the newspaper plant included Sally Voye, Lynn Drum, Karen Conley, Margaret Megeath, Annette Vucinich, Ann Daly, Kit Weinrichter, Pam Forkner, Lucy Lee, and Alexandra MacKenzie.

Also present were Mary Ann McClure, Priscilla Shaw, Carol Ann Kent, Muffie Mellin and Daurice Graves, and Mrs. William Shaw, co-leader of the troop.

Alpha Chi Omega's Arrange Dinner Dance in Woodside

Plans for a dinner dance tomorrow at the Pioneer hotel and for a no-host cocktail party preceding it were made last Tuesday when members of the Palo Alto Alumnae of Alpha Chi Omega (including this area) met with the San Mateo group.

Attending from the deeper peninsula were Mrs. M. Mensor, president, Mrs. Richard Gordon, Mrs. Arnold E. Rukan, Mrs. J. C. Eckels, Mrs. John Edwards, Mrs. Edward J. Lynch, Mrs. J. A. Moreing, Mrs. Allan Peters and Mrs. J. W. Phillips.

The cocktail party is to be held at the garden home of Mrs. William Dittler, 1541 Sunnyslope in Belmont. Both the hostess, at LY 3-7394, and Mrs. Mensor, WH 8-2973, are taking reservations for the event.

Any local alumnae who are interested in joining the Palo Alto group are asked to contact Mrs. Mensor or Mrs. Richard Lewis, UL 1-1212. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month at 12:30 p.m. in the homes of members.

The next gathering will take place on Valentine's Day at Mrs. H. P. Murnan's, 1156 Hamilton avenue, Palo Alto.

Lindsay Wilson, Joan C. Dunn Wed on Sunday

Following a honeymoon in Carmel, Lindsay K. Wilson of Menlo Park and his bride, the former Joan Carlson Dunn, will make their first home together in Palo Alto.

The couple were wed on Sunday afternoon at the Stanford Memorial chapel, receiving some 200 guests afterwards at the Forest Hills clubhouse in San Francisco.

For her marriage the bride, daughter of Mrs. John Carlson of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and the late Mr. Carlson, wore cocktail length pink peau de soie matched with a pink satin hat. Her flowers were white orchids.

The attendants, Mrs. Paul Moore and Mrs. Gordon Craig, whose husband gave the bride in marriage, were frocked in ivory sheath dresses banded with pink cummerbunds. Bouquets of deep red carnations completed their costumes.

Melinda Moore, flower girl, wore white and blue dotted Swiss and carried an old-fashioned nosegay.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Wilson of San Francisco, was attended by Robert Harrison, best man, and Harold H Taylor, usher.

University of Minnesota is the bride's alma mater, where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Her husband, partner in a Palo Alto investment firm, attended Lowell high school in San Francisco, University of California and Stanford Business School; he is a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity and formerly belonged to The Bachelors.

'Homemaker' Is Announced

Barbara C. Stellman is the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow at Menlo - Atherton high school, according to announcement made this week by General Mills, Inc., sponsors of the home appreciation program.

The M-A coed will be eligible now to compete in the statewide judging for $1500 and $500 scholarships, her paper to be entered in competition with 319 school winners throughout California.

As tokens of her achievement, Barbara was awarded a gold pin designed by Trifari and a cook book to be used by the school.

Trinity Auxiliary

The afternoon branch of the Woman's auxiliary of Holy Trinity Episcopal church will meet next Thursday at Trinity hall, with Corporate Communion at 11 a.m. to be followed by luncheon at 12 noon.

Mrs. Milton Farmer, president of the Diocesan auxiliary, will be guest speaker, preceding a short business session. Mrs. Carl Martin, hostess for the afternoon, has as her assistants Mrs. Albert Springhorn and Mrs. Walfrid Nyquist.

Members are asked to make their reservations by Tuesday with either Mrs. Gulick, DA 2-3985; Mrs. Estv, DA 3-9293 or Mrs. Coffin, DA 3-6312.

Legion Repeats 'Dimes' Dance

Once again the March of Dimes will receive funds from the East Palo Alto American Legion Post 472, for the successful dance of last Saturday will be repeated this Saturday night at the Legion hall, 2398 University avenue from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

According to Mrs. James De Berry, the Claytonniers will play again for the dancing.

Women Voters Start Study of School Monies

The provocative question "Where does the money come from to operate our schools?" will be discussed at the first meeting for the State Item workshop of the League of Women Voters of Menlo Park, when the group convenes at 1 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. David Kemp, 2108 Monterey avenue, will be hostess for the session, while Mrs. Leonard Bedell, Mrs. Ira Boynton and Mrs. Charles McClelland present the discussion material on state laws governing expenditures.

This meeting will serve as a preliminary to the one on February 20 when John Rickert, business manager for the Menlo Park Elementary School District, will explain how these laws apply to local schools.

"The administrative and financial structure of public education in California" was chosen as the state two-year study item at the League's state convention in Sacramento last May.

Mrs. Kemp points out that knowledge of our school money management is important because enrollment has doubled in the past 10 years, and will double again in 15 years if present trends continue and that by 1960, current expenditures are expected to increase 47 per cent over those of 1947-48.

OES Party

Valentine's will be the theme for a party following the regular 8 p.m. meeting of Menalto chapter of the Eastern Star this Saturday. All Menlo Park Rainbow Girls, Job's Daughters and De Molays are invited to attend the "hearts and flowers" fete, chaired by Pauline Bents.

One of the highlights of Grace Bodley's term has been the inauguration of folk dance sessions held on Friday nights at Encinal school, at which OES members and their friends learned folk and square dances together, and enjoyed many good times.

Burgess Guest

Former mayor and present Menlo Park city councilman, Charles P. Burgess, will present his views on school unification at Monday's meeting of the AAUW education committee.

All branch members are invited to attend this session, which will take place at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Marian Irwin, 757 College avenue.

AAUW evening bridge III will meet today with Mrs. John Haworth.

Game Night Set For Saturday

The East Palo Alto Junior Women's club meets tonight at 8 at the women's clubhouse on Bay road to make final plans for Game Night, which will be held this Saturday, February 4 at the same location.

According to chairman Mrs. Edward L. Bennett, those wishing to attend may contact her at DA 2-8169 for reservations.

"Our merchants have been overgenerous in donating wonderful prizes for our party," Mrs. Edward says.

ON SATURDAY members of AAUW evening bridge V will gather with Mrs. Frank Hevern.

EVENING bridge VI, AAUW, will meet today at Mrs. William Hooper's home.

Junior Auxiliary Show To Feature Leather

When the Spring Flight to Europe sets down Monday at the Allied Arts Guild lunchroom, models from the Palo Alto junior auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home will unpack a collection of custom-made leather ensembles suitable for travel anywhere.

Blue candles and white flowers combined with colorful travel flight posters will be used to decorate the lunchroom for this 12:30 p.m. event, according to Mrs. James Sweeney, decorations chairman. Localites assisting her are Mrs. Richard Byrne of Atherton, Mrs. Robert Cody and Mrs. Ellis Walker of Menlo Park.

Showing the versatility of leather, from shorts to cocktail suit, will be Mrs. James Evans and Mrs. John Jorgenson of Menlo Park, Mrs. Cushman Dow, Mrs. George Duffin, Mrs. Peter Edmonson, Mrs. Frederick Hunt, Mrs. Owen Mauel, Mrs. Sutherland Skerry, Mrs. Thomas Siebert, Mrs. James Sweeney and Mrs. Joseph Turner.

Rhoda Pack, designer of these leather creations, will model one of her favorite suits in person; also to be displayed is a light blue leather suit that withstood the rains of the recent Bing Crosby golf tournament.

Reservations for the show, which benefits the Stanford Convalescent Home, may be made by calling DA 4-2588.

HERBERT Keeble will speak on "Pictures and Picture Framing for Today's Home" when the arts and crafts section of the Stanford Women's Faculty club meets at 2 p.m. Monday with Mrs. Frederick Glover, 1820 Oak avenue.
